C. H. Hanford To Be Chief Justice of Washington.

THE COMMITTEES OF THE SENATE

An Interesting Discussion of the Canadian Question—The Prospects of Pacific Coast Office Seekers—Capital Notes

WASHINGTON, March 12.—The president has sent the following nominations to the senate: Arthur C Mellette, of Watertown, Dak, to be governor of Dakota; Luther B Richardson, of Grand Fork, Dak., to be secretary of Dakota; Cornelius H. Hanford, of Washington territory, to be chief justice of the supreme court of the territory of Washington; George W Irvin, of Montana, to be United States marshal for Montana; George S Batchelor, of New York, to be assistant secretary of the treasury; Albert G Porter, of Indiana, to be minister to Italy; John A Enander, of Illinois, to be consul general to Denmark; Shirley H Chambers, to be United States attorney for Indiana.

IN THE SENATE.

Announcement of the New Committees—The Canadian Question.

In the continued absence of Vice-president Morton, Senator Ingalls acted as presiding officer.

The message of the president transmitting the papers in the case of Louis Riel, was presented and laid on the table.

The senate then relapsed into idleness, awaiting the report of the committee on standing committees.

COMMITTEES APPOINTED.

At 12:15 P. M. Platt obtained unanimous consent to have suspended so much of the rules as require the standing committees to be elected by ballot, and as require the election of a committee on expenditures of public moneys, and that that committee be represented by one for the organization, conduct and expenditures of the executive departments.

Platt then offered a resolution which was agreed to for the election of the standing committees submitted by him.

The committees are as follows:

Agriculture and Forestry—Paddock, Blair, Plumb, Higgins, McMillan, George, Gibson, Jones of Arkansas and Bates.

Appropriations—Allison, Dawes, Plumb, Hale, Farwell, Beck, Cockrell, Call and Gorman.

Civil Service—Chase, Dawes, Manderson, Stanford, Washburne, Walthall, Wilson of Maryland, Berry and Brown.

Coast Defense—Dolph, Cameron, Hawley, Hitchcock, McPherson, Hampton and Reagan.

Claims—Spooner, Hoar, Mitchell, Higgins, Wolcott, Jones of Arkansas, Wilson of Indiana, Pasco and Faulkner.

Contingent Expenses—Jones of Nevada, Paddock and Vance.

Census—Hale, Morrill, Wilson of Iowa, Stockbridge, Davis, Berry, Blackburn, Blodgett and Turpie.

Commerce—Frye, Jones of Nevada, Dolph, Cameron, Sawyer, Cullom, Washburne, Ransom, Coke, Vest, Gorman, Kenna, Gibson.

District of Columbia—Ingalls, Spooner, Farwell, McMillan, Higgins, Harris, Vance, Daniel and Faulkner.

Education and Labor—Blair, Wilson of Iowa, Stanford, Stewart, Washburne, George, Pugh, Payne and Barbour.

Engrossed Bill—Farwell, Quay and Colquitt.

Epidemic Diseases—Harris, Hampton, Eustis, Berry, Hale, Stockbridge and Marston.

Finance—Morrill, Sherman, Jones of Nevada, Allison, Aldrich, Hiscock, Voorhees, Beck, McPherson, and Vance.

Fisheries—Stockbridge, Dawes, Stanford, Hampton and Blodgett.

Foreign Relations—Sherman, Edmunds, Frye, Evarts, Dolph, Morgan, Brown, Payne and Eustis.

Interstate Commerce—Cullom, Platt, Blair, Wilson of Iowa, Hiscock, Harris, Gorman, Reagan and Barbour.

Improvement of the Mississippi river—Washburn, Farwell, Hawley, Marston, Eustis, Walthall and Call.

Indian Affairs—Dawes, Platt, Stockbridge, Manderson, Wolcott, Morgan, Jones of Arkansas, Hearst and Daniel.

Judiciary—Edmunds, Ingalls, Hoar, Wilson of Iowa, Evarts, Pugh, Coke, Vest and George.

Library—Evarts, Hoar and Voorhees.

Manufactures—McMillan, Quay, Platt, Colquitt and Blodgett.

Military Affairs—Hawley, Cameron, Manderson, Stewart, Davis, Cockrell, Hampton, Walthall and Bates.

Mines and Mining—Stewart, Jones of Nevada, Mitchell, Teller, Bates, Faulkner and Hearst.

Naval Affairs—Cameron, Hale, Stanford, Stockbridge, Marston, McPherson, Butler, Blackburn and Gray.

Organization, conduct and expenditures of the executive departments—Hiscock, Plumb, Sherman, Frye, Spooner, Cockrell, Kenna, Gibson and Barbour.

Patents—Teller, Chase, Platt, Hiscock, Gray, Kenna and Reagan.

Pensions—Davis, Blair, Sawyer, Paddock, Marston, Turpie, Blodgett, Faulkner and Barbour.

Postoffices and Post Roads—Sawyer, Chase, Mitchell, Quay, McMillan, Colquitt, Wilson of Maryland, Reagan and Blodgett.

Printing—Manderson, Hawley and Gorman.

Private Land Claims—Ransom, Colquitt, Pasco, Edmunds, Stewart, Ingalls and Wolcott.

Public Buildings and Grounds—Stanford, Morrill, Spooner, Quay, Vest, Daniel and Pasco.

Privileges and Elections—Hawley, Teller, Evarts, Spooner, Vance, Pugh, Quay and Turpie.

Public Lands—Plumb, Blair, Dolph, Teller, Paddock, Morgan, Walthall, Berry and Pasco.

Railroads—Mitchell, Sawyer, Hawley, Stockbridge, Wolcott, Marston, Brown, Kenna, Blackburn and Bedford.

Revision of Laws—Wilson of Iowa, Stanford, Teller, Wilson of Maryland and Daniel.

Revolutionary Claims—Coke, Pugh, Hearst, Chase and Morrill.

Rules—Aldrich, Sherman, Ingalls, Harris and Blackburn.

Transportation Routes to the Seaboard—Quay, Mitchell, Cullom, Dawes, Aldrich, Gibson, Vest, George and Turpie.

Territories—Platt, Cullom, Manderson, Stewart, Davis, Butler, Payne, Jones of Arkansas and Blackburn.

To examine the several branches of the civil service—Higgins, Aldrich, Allison, Hampton and Gray.

SPECIAL COMMITTEES.

The following special committees were appointed:

To inquire into the claims of citizens of the United States against Nicaragua—Morgan, Wilson (Maryland), Hearst, Hoar and Cameron.

On the president's message transmitting the report of the Pacific railway commission—Frye, Dawes, Hiscock, Davis, Morgan, Butler, Hearst.

Relations with Canada—Hoar, Allison, Hale, Dolph, Pugh, Butler and Voorhees.

Irrigation and reclamation of arid lands—Stewart, Allison, Plumb, Hiscock, Gorman, Reagan and Jones (of Arkansas).

On the centennial of the constitution and discovery of America—Hiscock, Sherman, Hoar, Hawley, Voorhees, Eustis and Colquitt.

On the five civilized tribes of Indians—Butler, Morgan, Dawes, Cameron and Teller.

AN INTERESTING DISCUSSION.

A long and interesting discussion took place on a motion made by Payne to strike from the list of select committees the one on relations with Canada.

Hoar said it was useless to be blind to facts, and that no discretion was required as to it, that there was a large and growing body of men in Canada that desired annexation to the United States, but that nobody proposed to accomplish it without the free and intelligent and instructed will of the people of both countries.

Cullom did not think there could be too much investigation into the relations existing (and to exist) between the United States and Canada. He very much desired that such investigation and progress should be made as would ultimate in the countries becoming one.

Sherman favored the committee. He did not believe that with the long stretching border between them the two countries could long continue in peace. There would be a great nation springing up to the north of the United States and that fact would necessitate a standing army on each side which would endanger the republican form of government. He hoped some day for a union, as the popular movement of both peoples.

Edmunds said that he would vote for the standing committee but with the reserve that his vote would not commit him to the idea of favoring annexation, or political union. That step once taken would be indissoluble.

Morrill said that he was quite willing to have the committee appointed as it afforded opportunity for steam to be blown off on the question. He regarded the whole agitation on the subject as preposterous, as there never had been a time when Canada was more loyal to Great Britain than now.

Blair disclaimed the inferences to be drawn from the remarks of the Vermont senator that New England was not in favor of a political union.

Frye spoke of the necessity of obtaining commercial and other statistics, but declared that any movement on the part of the United States looking towards annexation would be a profound mistake and would only retard it.

After further debate Payne withdrew his motion.

All of the select committees were agreed to, and the senate went into executive session and confirmed the following nominations:

Thomas W Palmer, of Michigan, minister to Spain; John F Swift, of California, minister to Japan; John E Washburn, of Massachusetts, consul general to Switzerland; George C Tichenor, of Illinois, assistant secretary of the treasury.

The nominations sent in to-day were referred to the appropriate committee. Adjourned.

SWIFT'S APPOINTMENT.

And How Estee Prevented the Coast Getting a Cabinet Representative

SAN FRANCISCO, March 12.—A special dispatch from Washington, purporting to give particulars of why the Pacific coast was not represented in the cabinet, says: "It was General Harrison's original intention to have appointed Hon John F Swift a member of his cabinet, probably not secretary of the interior, but attorney-general or secretary of the navy. Estee however, loomed up as an applicant for cabinet honors. He secured petitions from the republican members of the California and Nevada legislatures asking for his appointment, and General Harrison was inundated with letters and telegrams from Estee and his friends praying for his appointment. General Harrison while recognizing Estee's abilities, did not prefer him as a member of his official household, neither did he think it wise to oppose the wishes of the republican organizations of the two Pacific states by choosing a man of his own selection to represent that section in the cabinet. Consequently the coast to-day is unrepresented in the executive department of the government.

Swift reached Washington last Thursday night, called hither to represent California in the Chae Chang Ping case. Friday morning he called upon the president, and found him surrounded by a crowd of politicians. General Harrison asked him to dine with him that night and the invitation was accepted. They had opportunity for half an hour's private conversation, and while the president did not say he intended to confer any official honor upon Swift, his remarks indicated that he intended to recognize the coast's interests by a foreign appointment. The California delegation in congress was anxious to urge upon the president the appointment of Swift to a foreign mission, but it is understood that he counseled delay. Swift had no notion what mission the president intended offering him, but it is doubtful if a place personally more agreeable could have been chosen for him.

YESTERDAY'S APPOINTMENTS

Brief Biographical Sketches of the Successful Men.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—John A Enander, of Illinois, who was to-day nominated to be minister resident and consul general at Copenhagen, Denmark, is about 60 years of age, and was born in Sweden. He is editor of a Scandinavian paper published in Chicago. He has always been a consistent republican in politics, and has never held a public office.

George S Batcheller, who was appointed assistant secretary of the treasury, is a grand nephew of Roger Sherman. He graduated at Harvard in 1857, and was elected to the New York legislature the following year. He served during the war with distinction and was from 1875 to 1886 judge of the international tribunal at Cairo, Egypt. He will take the place now occupied by Governor Thomson, and will have immediate supervision of all the appointments under the treasury department. His appointment was urged by ex-Senators Miller and Platt.

Cornelius H Hanford, who was nominated chief justice of Washington territory, is a resident of Walla Walla, where he has practiced law for several years. He has been closely identified with territorial enterprises.

George W Irvin, who was nominated United States marshal for Montana, is an old resident of Butte, and is engaged in mining. He was at one time sheriff of Deer Lodge county.

OTHER PROBABLE APPOINTMENTS.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—The appointment of John F Swift as minister to Japan is considered by the friends of Fred Grant as assurance that their candidate is secure for the Chinese mission.

Senator Stanford of California, is using his best efforts in the interest of Colonel Fred Grant as minister to China. He says there is no doubt that Colonel Grant will receive the appointment. "He would be more acceptable," the California senator adds, "to the Chinese government, than any other representation we could give them. The Chinese officials have the highest regard for the Grant family."

It looks now as if John Jameson would be appointed superintendent of the railway mail service. Jameson is from Wisconsin, and was in the service from the time he was a mere boy until dismissed by Vilas's administration.

TWO MEN IN THE RACE.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—A W Bash, of Port Townsend, Washington territory, dined with General Harrison to-night, and he says that the contest for the governorship of that territory soon to be admitted as a state rests between ex-Governor Watson C Squire, of Seattle, and Miles C Moore, of Walla Walla.

OSBORNE INTRODUCED TO THE PRESIDENT.

NEW YORK, March 12.—The Times Washington special says: Senator Stanford and the California delegation of representatives called upon President Harrison to-day and introduced H. C. Osborne of Los Angeles, who is proposed as a candidate for the office of public printer.

A DEMOCRATIC OFFICEHOLDER RESIGNS.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—Julius J Weeks, chief clerk of the bureau of steam engineering of the navy department, has resigned.

APPOINTED COLLECTOR OF CUSTOMS.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—The president has appointed Jeremiah Sullivan collector of customs at Fort Benton, Montana.

THE PRESIDENT.

His Callers Include a Delegation From Arizona and Pacific Coast Congressmen

WASHINGTON, March 12.—This has been a busy day for the president. Among the delegations received was one from Arizona, with Thomas A Wilson as spokesman, who talked about the governorship of that territory.

Senator Stanford, accompanied by Representatives Morrow and Vandever, also called and urged the president to appoint as public printer H. Z. Osborne, of the Los Angeles (Cal) Express. Osborne's application is indorsed not only by the above named but by Senators Jones and Stewart, of Nevada, and Mitchell and Dolph, of Oregon.

THE FUNERAL OF TOWNSHEND.

Beautiful Floral Tributes in Memory of the Deceased

WASHINGTON, March 12.—The funeral of the late Congressman Townshend of Illinois was held to-day at St Matthews church. Upon the top and sides of the casket were floral tributes, forming beautiful masses of fresh cut flowers. A large piece was sent by the Illinois friends of the deceased and another by Mrs. Senator Stanford. Roses from the White house conservatory were sent by President and Mrs Harrison. The interment temporarily was in the vault at Oak Hill cemetery.

THE PACIFIC RAILROADS.

The Senate Committee Will Proceed to Take a Trip Over the Lines.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—At a meeting of the senate special committee on Pacific railroads, it was decided to proceed at once after the adjournment of the senate to make an inspection of the roads. The members will meet in Chicago April 6th, and will make a trip over the Union and Central Pacific railroads, their branches and leased lines, occupying about six weeks time. The committee consists of Frye, Davies, Hiscock, Davis, Morgan, Butler and Hearst.

THE RAILWAY MAIL SERVICE.

The President Signs an Order Extending the Time of the Old Law.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—The president to-day signed an order extending the time from March 15 to May 1, 1889, within which the railway mail service shall be brought under the operation of the civil service law and rules.

The extension is made upon the representation of Civil Service Commissioner Lyman that the organization could not be accomplished earlier than May 1.

THE MISSOURI PACIFIC.

Annual Report of the Directors of the Road.

ST LOUIS, March 12.—The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Missouri Pacific railway convened this morning.

The report showed gross earnings of $13,220,000; expenses, $12,889,000; net income $43,000. The surplus, January 1, 1888, was $6,087,000. December 31, 1888, it was $4,445,000, the difference having been consumed in betterments, dividends, etc. The dividends amounted to a million and a half and the betterments to nearly half a million.

The report shows that in the construction of new lines $7,762,688 have been expended, of which $6,000,000 was advanced by the directors.

When the contracts were entered upon there was a ready market for railroad securities, the Missouri Pacific selling above par. The decline necessitates an advance by the directors, which the stockholders can repay at their leisure, with interest not to exceed 6 per cent.

The only change in the directory is the selection of John P Munn in place of E. S. Hayes.

CLEVELAND GOING TO CUBA.

He Will Be Accompanied by Fairchild, Lamont and Others.

NEW YORK, March 12.—Ex President Cleveland is planning a pleasure trip to Cuba. He is expected to leave New York next Tuesday. In the party will be ex-Secretary Fairchild, Dan Lamont and, in all probability, Messrs Whitney, Vilas and Dickinson.

They expect to make the trip in easy stages and enjoy themselves thoroughly.

AN ACTIVE MEMBER OF THE BAR.

NEW YORK, March 12.—Ex President Cleveland was to-night elected an active member of the bar association.

BOLD TALK BY PORTER

We Can Fight Germany With Ease and Prosperity.

HE HAS STUDIED THE SITUATION.

A Paper Campaign That Sounds as Plain and Easy as Those Afloat in the Early Days of the Rebellion

WASHINGTON, March 12.—Admiral Porter, who has made a very careful study of the Samoan situation from a naval standpoint, ever since the existing complications arose, is quoted by the Evening Star as having said recently: "A pin is worth fighting for, if a principle is involved. The first war with Great Britain was for a principle, and it gave us our independence and national existence. The war of 1812 was for a principle, and it gave us our maritime independence. The war with Mexico was for a principle, and gave us subjugated possession on our whole Pacific coast. The war for the Union was for a principle, and resulted in the restoration of the authority of the constitution and gave us a people North and South animated by a military spirit, which will be equal to every possible requirement.

I have carefully investigated the stories about the Nipsic. It looks as if they were put out at the instigation of Bismarck to test the sentiment of his own and of our people. He has never been a friend of the United States. He will find out very promptly the temper of the American people. Of course, we are weak at present on the ocean," he continued, "but there is a plan which will meet the emergency and will badly cripple Germany while we are getting ready. No one supposes that the American people would give up the contest until Germany has received a sound drubbing.

We have surplus and revenues enough, with the taxes now at a minimum point, to carry on a desultory war until we are in fighting trim. While we are getting ready we can prohibit the entry of German manufactures into the United States. This is an important item in the monetary activity of Germany. We have sent many millions there to pay for goods. If for the time being, Germany should try to blockade our ports, in less than sixty days we would find an English fleet on our coasts, involved in protecting her own trade with that of the United States. The hundred millions and more of British goods finding a market in the United States could not be cut off without ruining British industries. France would also have an interest. Meanwhile, we could get along without their goods, if necessary. So England and France would be forced as a measure of industrial self-defense to protect their vessels and their trade with the United States.

As the country knows, I have been urging in my letters and reports the importance of building up a powerful navy. We have wealth and resources enough to lead the world in a navy. But, taking matters as they are, the government should go to England and France, both countries being ahead of Germany in modern naval vessels and guns, and buy all the rifled guns we can find and bring them here. We will very soon make use for them. Here is the list of the entire strength of the German navy. It is more than we have, but we have money and could easily spend $250,000,000 in ships and appliances of war.

"There is League island at Philadelphia, the grandest place on the continent for a great navy-yard. If we can build one we can build fifty ships right there. It is inaccessible to foreign fleets. The channel of the river could be lined with torpedoes, if necessary, or they might be operated from the shore. Ships could be built there with all the materials near at hand. Of course this would take time. In the meantime we would be compelled to resort to other modes of offensive war.

With $50,000,000, within sixty days I could put an improvised fleet in motion which would make short work with German commerce. There are 600 German steamers afloat. I know where they are. We have fleet ships. I could pick them out now. We could buy more. They would answer for privateers.

"About the time we would have this part of the work disposed of, German industries affected by foreign trade would be paralyzed, while we would be at the height of prosperity. We are always prosperous in times of war. We would then be getting ready to begin fighting. It might be possible that Germany would seize Samoa for the time being. The European aspect of the question would present another complication.

THE DRESSED BEEF TRUST.

Proceedings of the Legislative Convention at St. Louis.

ST LOUIS, March 12.—The rotunda of the Southern hotel was crowded this morning by delegates to the legislative conference to consider methods of combatting the beef combine. The opinion among the delegates is that little difficulty will be experienced in securing the passage of any law which received the approval of the convention.

The convention was called to order this afternoon and a temporary organization effected. Committees were appointed, and the convention then took a recess.

A lengthy preamble and resolution was introduced by Albert Head, of Iowa, reciting the evils of the Chicago and other combines, and declaring that as the state laws are inadequate to wholly remedy the evils complained of, congress be requested to pass a law, with adequate penalties, prohibiting any corporation, company or individual from entering into or becoming a party to any pool, combination, trust or confederation, for the purpose of regulating, fixing or controlling the price of beef, pork, grain, or other productions of the country, and that the interstate commerce law be amended so that it will work in harmony with the law above requested. Referred.

Draft, of Illinois, then offered a resolution, as follows:

Resolved, That we have been sent here to investigate as to the existence of a meat and beef combine, or trust and its mode of operation, and its effect upon the price of cattle and meat, for the purpose of basing upon the findings such remedial legislation as may be necessary, and that can be lawfully enacted by the different states.

The object of this resolution as stated by the members of the committee on rules was to switch the convention off into the consideration of the question whether such a thing as a beef trust or monopoly exists, and so divert attention from the announced purpose of the gathering, namely, to recommend needful legislation. The resolution went to the committee.

Among the other resolutions offered and referred was one that this convention memorialize congress to make such an amendment to the interstate commerce law as shall punish all interference or discrimination by the railroads in the transportation of beef or pork in any of its forms.

The convention then adjourned until to-morrow morning.

It is rumored to-night that the legislative committee has reached the conclusion that it does not know why the convention wants information as to the existence of a beef and pork combine, or legislation to check the growth of dressed beef trusts, the existence of which the delegates are already aware of.

THE OTHER SIDE OF THE QUESTION.

To-night the cattle feeders held a meeting and protested against the efforts of the "butchers' combine" to break down the dressed beef business. Hon. Lafayette Funk, of Illinois, addressed the meeting. Resolutions were adopted protesting against any action on the part of the representatives that will have the least tendency to restrict or hamper existing competition for live cattle, and favoring the most critical and impartial national inspection of cattle and the products thereof at the place of slaughter of the cattle.

AN ANOMALOUS CONDITION.

Two Police Forces Struggling for the Supremacy in Indianapolis.

INDIANAPOLIS, March 12.—Indianapolis has a double police force and two police headquarters, and nobody can tell how they will receive their pay.

The board organized under the bill passed by the legislature met this morning and organized a police force. The patrolmen of the new board were instructed to avoid a clash with the old force.

During the day a conference was held by the attorneys of the new board and the mayor and council, at which it was decided that the new board should file a complaint for possession before Judge Taylor as well as before the metropolitan commissioners. The city will at once file an answer alleging that the bill was unconstitutional because the legislature cannot fill offices by appointment, and because the bill was not signed by the speaker of the house and the lieutenant governor after its passage, as required by the constitution. It will take three weeks to decide the question. Probably similar action will be taken to test the constitutionality of other bills.

DEATH BY ELECTRICITY.

Experiments Recently Made by New York State Officials.

NEW YORK, March 12.—The final experiments were made this afternoon by the New York state authorities to satisfy themselves as to the best means of executing condemned criminals by electricity.

Several dogs were killed with an alternating current at from 600 and 700 volts for ten seconds. Four calves, of approximately the weight of a man, were killed at 800 volts pressure for contacts of from fifteen to twenty seconds. An 850-pound horse then took the alternating current in the same way at 1000 volts pressure and died. In every case death was instantaneous and without a sound or a struggle.

NORTHWESTERN NEWS

A Case of Smallpox at the Asylum at Salem.

SKETCH OF THE NEW CHIEF JUSTICE

Montana Politicians Filibustering for the Offices—Affairs in Idaho—Railroad Construction—Puget Sound Notes

SALEM, March 12.—There is one case of smallpox at the insane asylum, George M. Alberts, who was committed from Yamhill county January 7th last. The patient has been removed to the pesthouse of the institution and a strict quarantine established. The inmates have all been vaccinated this season and no danger is feared of the disease spreading. The insane asylum is two miles from the main part of the city and no person will be allowed to leave there except physicians until the disease is eradicated, so there is no danger possible outside. The ward wherein the patient was has been fumigated and tightly sealed, so there is no communication with other wards.

It is a mystery how the disease started, as strict quarantine has been maintained four months, nobody having been allowed in without a special permit except legislators and their friends during the session. Every inmate will be vaccinated again now.

THE NEW CHIEF JUSTICE

He Has Lived in Seattle for a Third of a Century

SEATTLE, W. T., March 12.—Cornelius H. Hanford, appointed chief justice of Washington by President Harrison, has been a resident of Seattle since 1856. He was born in Iowa on April 21, 1849, and his parents removed to this city when he was seven years of age. He attended the public schools of Seattle, and rounded off the education there received by a course in business college in San Francisco. Returning to Washington, he taught school and studied law for several years, and finally, in 1875, he was admitted to the bar in this city by Chief Justice Orange Jacobs. Since then Mr. Hanford has continuously practiced his profession in Seattle. He was a partner in the well known firm of Greene, McNaught, Hanford & McGraw, which dissolved last fall. He was selected chairman of the last territorial republican central committee, after the resignation of Colonel J. C. Haines, and conducted the campaign of the territory in the fall election. He was married in Olympia in 1875, and is the father of four daughters and three sons. His appointment to the chief justiceship was urged by the bar of the Third judicial district, there being no candidate against him. He will probably relieve Judge Burke during the term of court at Port Townsend.

THE MONTANA LEGISLATURE

A Feeling of Disappointment That Governor Leslie's Successor Is Not Appointed.

HELENA, Mont., March 12.—The legislature adjourns on Thursday at midnight and the republicans are making desperate efforts to secure the decapitation of Governor Leslie, so that certain appointments may be made by the new governor appointed by the president in time to be approved by the council.

All of the democratic territorial officials now holding positions were renominated by the governor several days ago, but the council in executive session to-day refused to confirm them, except a lady as territorial librarian, who is not a politician, hoping that the new governor would be appointed to-day or to-morrow. But there is a delay for some reason, although the prompt removal of Church of Dakota, encouraged the republicans to believe that Montana would be attended to at once.

The situation has been thoroughly explained at Washington. If no appointment is made until after adjournment, the question of an early session is being discussed. This would require the sanction of the president. If Leslie does not renominate the rejected officials, and the legislature adjourns while he is still in office, they will hold over until their successors are appointed and qualified. Under these conditions Hershfield, if appointed, could not get here from Washington in time to carry out the programme. This would leave Council President Cole and General Wilson of Bozeman, as the only candidates, and Cole's resignation of his legislative office would leave only a bare majority of one in that body.

An associated press dispatch this morning stated that Parker and McCutcheon were still in the field and considered as candidates. This is not true. Power has withdrawn, the result of a combination with Hershfield, and McCutcheon positively declines on account of his connection with his clientage. McCutcheon could easily have secured the honors, as he was the choice of a very large proportion of the republicans and the citizens generally, and is an intimate and close personal friend of Russell Harrison, who favored his nomination and urged him to accept it.

Two bills relating to the appointment by the governor of territorial mining and boiler inspectors passed both houses nearly a week ago, but they have been held back and not presented to Governor Leslie for his signature, awaiting the action of the president to give the republicans a chance to secure inspectors of their political faith.

AFFAIRS IN IDAHO.

The Outlook for Railroad Construction—Industrial Notes.

LEWISTON, Idaho, (via Pomeroy, W. T.), March 12.—The spring opens auspiciously for a prosperous year in the Clearwater and Salmon river basins of Northern Idaho.

The recent dispatches in THE OREGONIAN announcing the proposed extension of the Manitoba railroad from Butte over to Bitter Root mountains via Lolo pass, Clearwater river and Lewiston, fills the entire Northwest country with a hope of increased transportation facilities and competition. This route is the most direct for a trans-continental line, and is 250 miles shorter than the Northern Pacific's horseshoe route around Pend d'Oreille lake. The Northern Pacific directors have frequently regretted that their road was not located via Clearwater, on account of its easy grade, the facility of operating and the immense area of rich tributary country adjoining, which would furnish a heavy local traffic when developed. It is generally understood that the Northern Pacific's present route was adopted at the instigation of the late Philip Ritz and other stockholders who had acquired titles to large areas of land in the Palouse country, which required railroad development to render it valuable. Repeated surveys of the Bitter Root range have been frequently made of late years by various companies, and three distinct passes at an elevation of less than 7000 feet have been found with easy grades to the summit.

The Northern Pacific will reach Lewiston this summer by steamers and through the extension of the Spokane & Palouse system.

The Idaho Transit Company expect to commence the construction soon of a railroad connecting Camas prairie and Lewiston with the Spokane & Palouse system, affording an outlet for the products of a large area of the very best lands in Idaho territory, which is now isolated and unproductive.

The building of a territorial wagon road between Northern and Southern Idaho will be accomplished this summer, opening to wagon transportation many rich mining districts heretofore handicapped by pack train freight rates, and leading to the development of new districts hitherto idle from the same cause.

INDUSTRIAL NOTES, ETC.

Reports from the interior stock ranges show that not a single hoof was lost during the late wonderfully open winter. The lowest temperature was seventeen degrees above.

Great activity prevails in orcharding here, and the Clearwater valley will produce this year an enormous fruit crop.

Fall-sown wheat is thriving nicely, and indications are good for a heavy crop of cereals.

A heavy immigration is already pouring into Camas prairie. Settlement of the country has been retarded by lack of surveys of public domains, but the land office officials report increased activity in land matters generally.

Titus, a Nez Perce Indian, fired on the police on the reservation while they were attempting to arrest him on the charge of polygamy and is now in jail. Several other Indians on the reserve are afflicted with the same polygamous proclivities.

Owing to the strike of hands on the steamboats, Lewiston is at present totally deprived of freight transportation. Our only communication with the outside world is a daily stage to Pomeroy, and no mail or OREGONIANS have been received for twenty four hours.

The late Judge Buck is in Washington, ostensibly to advocate annexation, but really to secure appointment as governor of Idaho.

Charley Monteith is also at Washington working for the Indian agency position on the Nez Perce reservation.

FROM SEATTLE.

An Official Denial of a Rumored Railroad Sale—Local Notes.

SEATTLE, March 12.—A dispatch was received here to-day from President Douglas, of the New Westminster & Southern road, denying the report that his road had been sold to the Northern Pacific. The New Westminster & Southern is an extension of Canfield's Bellingham Bay road, which has so many times been said to have been sold to the Northern, and which reports always meet emphatic denial from Canfield.

Tom Cleary, who whipped McCann in nine rounds on Sunday, is about to sign articles for a fight to a finish with one John Hennessy, said to be from Kansas City. A telegram was to-night received from Tom Ward, in San Francisco, offering to fight Cleary for a thousand-dollar purse, the loser to take $250 for training expenses.

President J. R. McDonald and Chief Engineer Mohr, of the Seattle, Lake Shore & Eastern, returned last night from a two months trip to Eastern states. They were accompanied by John H. Bryant, who arrives to assume the presidency of the Seattle Coal and Iron Company, vice D. H. Gilman, resigned.

John Horgan, carpenter on the ship Blue Jacket, this morning, while crazed with liquor, committed an assault on Captain Storris with an adze, because the captain refused to give him money. The captain kept him at bay with a revolver, and then went and had him arrested for assault with a deadly weapon. The trial comes up to-morrow.

William Lebean died at Providence hospital last night from the effects of an injury received at Port Gamble last week. He was caught in a revolving wheel in a saw mill and whirled around a number of times with frightful velocity. He was terribly bruised and had an arm broken. Being brought to this city he lingered along until the arm had to be amputated, but the operation did no good and he died. Lebean was 41 years of age.

Major William A. Jones of Portland was in the city to-day.

The committee having in charge the subscriptions to the Denny hotel to-day circulated a subscription paper among the citizens and raised $80,000 subscribed by nineteen citizens. It will be necessary to raise the amount of $100,000, the remainder of $100,000 with a site for the hotel, having been assured in the original subscription. There is scarcely a doubt that the entire amount will be raised and that work on the hotel will be commenced and finished in time to accommodate the summer travel of next year.

FROM TACOMA.

A Third Trial for Murder—The New Chief Justice—Etc.

TACOMA, March 12.—In the district court to-day the case against William M. White, indicted for murder in the first degree, was called, and nearly the whole day was spent in securing a jury. The prosecution made eighteen challenges for cause and six peremptory, and the defense three for cause and eleven peremptory, making thirty-eight in all. A jury was secured about 5 o'clock and the case will commence to-morrow. This is White's third trial, the first having resulted in a disagreement, while in the second he was found guilty of murder in the second degree, and was sentenced to the penitentiary for two years, but was granted a new trial on account of women being on the jury, after serving half his term. The trial is expected to last all week.

C. H. Hanford, who has just been appointed chief justice of Washington, is a brother-in-law of Fanny Verona Baldwin, of San Francisco, and was assistant United States attorney under John P. Allen. He has been associated with ex-Chief Justice Greene for many years, and has been a great pet of his. Greene is first cousin of Senator Evarts, of New York, and of Senator Hoar, of Massachusetts.

A large beef packing company has been formed of Tacoma and Yakima capitalists, whose objects are to slaughter beef at Yakima, close to the cattle ranges, and ship the beef to Puget Sound in their own refrigerator cars. The company will have a capital of a hundred thousand dollars.

All the machinery for the Ryan smelter is now on the ground here, and nearly in place, and by the end of next month the smelter will smelt at the rate of 560 tons of ore per day.

Samuel Collyer, cashier of the Merchants' National bank, has prepared for your correspondent a statement of deposits in the national banks of Tacoma at the February call of the comptroller of the treasury last year, and of the same at the February call this year. Whole amount of deposits last year, $1,107,833; this year, $2,598,112, a gain of $1,490,279. Besides these, deposits in private banks amount to about $300,000.

The republicans have issued a call for a primary election for a convention to nominate candidates for city offices for April 19, the convention to be held on the 22d.

General John Gibbon and Lieutenant Woodruff, of Vancouver barracks, arrived here to-day.

THE FLATHEAD FLURRY.

Clifford Arrested for Causing the Death of an Indian

HELENA, Mont., March 12.—J. E. Clifford of Demersville has been arrested for causing the death of an Indian who, Clifford says, was attacking him with a knife, by striking him on the head with the butt of his revolver, which event was the cause that originated the exaggerated reports about an Indian outbreak on the Flathead reservation. The sheriff and his prisoner were obliged to make a long detour, which delayed them a day and a half, in order to avoid a party of thirty or forty armed Flathead Indians who had stationed themselves on the road which the sheriff was expected to take with the avowed determination of avenging the death of their fellow.

Clifford says the Indian was a notorious thief, and after he had struck him, he and Dr. Cunningham caught him and another Indian trying to steal some horses, but they were scared off by a display of firearms. The death of the Indian was caused by a cold settling in the wound on his head.

FROM SALEM.

Supreme Court Proceedings—The Governor's Appointments for Harney County.

SALEM, March 12.—In the supreme court, in the case of Belt vs. Spaulding et al., the former decision was adhered to, opinion by Judge Strahan.

In the case of C. Cross, administrator, et al. vs. Mary L. Backett, administratrix, the former decision was adhered to, opinion by Judge Strahan.

In the case of Mary E. Furgeson vs. Sarah A. Jones, the motion for a rehearing was denied, opinion by Judge Lord.

In the case of A. N. Church, resp., vs. John Milville, app., an appeal from Multnomah county, was argued and submitted.

APPOINTMENTS FOR HARNEY COUNTY.

The governor to-day appointed the officers of the new county of Harney, with the county seat at Harney City, as follows: W. E. Grace, clerk; A. A. Cowing, sheriff; T. J. Shields, county judge; J. F. Morrison and T. B. James, commissioners; William Harney, assessor; L. B. Baker, superintendent of schools; W. R. Gradon, surveyor, and V. J. Miller, treasurer.

Toy Hong, Chinese cook in May's restaurant, attacked John Allen, colored waiter, this morning with a carving knife, but Allen struck the celestial on the head with a glass tumbler, laying him out. Hong had Allen arrested for assault and battery, but the jury acquitted him in five minutes. Allen is the same man arrested and taken to Portland in January for robbing a registered letter, and cleared as being the wrong man.

Rain has been falling all day, and everybody is happy.

FROM SPOKANE FALLS.

New Buildings in Process of Construction—A Prize-Fight Arranged.

SPOKANE FALLS, March 12.—A large force of men are at work to-day in the excavation for a new brick building, owned by L. B. Whitten and others, opposite the Review office, on Howard street. It will be 50x90 feet, and three stories high, with a basement.

S. C. Hyde and associates have purchased the corner adjoining for $16,500, and are having plans made for a handsome building.

Work is progressing on the Kaufman & Tilton building, on Riverside avenue and Washington street, adjoining the postoffice. It will be five stories high, with a basement and granite front.

More expensive buildings will be erected this season than ever before.

Tom Stockley, late of England, and Paddy Welch, of Chicago, signed articles of agreement to-day April 2, for $250 a side and the lightweight championship of the Pacific slope. The fight will occur here if the authorities will permit, otherwise at Coeur d'Alene.

A very large and earnest meeting of workingmen was held at the American resort to-night. The discussion was confined chiefly to the importance of strengthening the labor organizations with reference to the constitutional convention. The tenor of the speeches was in favor of ignoring politics and voting for candidates pledged to the support of a clause for the protection of labor interests.

At a Board of Trade meeting to-night the committee on freight rates presented a long report, showing outrageous discriminations against Spokane by the Northern Pacific railway. The Merchants' Protective Union have taken steps to present a test case before the interstate commerce commission, and Judge Turner, attorney for the association, will report to-morrow night on the methods of procedure.

FROM VICTORIA.

A Woman Becomes Insane from Attending Salvation Army Meetings.

VICTORIA, B. C., March 12.—Jennie Hamilton, one of the servants brought from Ireland some months ago by Canon Cooper, of Kamloops, was sent to the Westminster asylum to-day, having become insane through attending the meetings of the Salvation army.

David Green, a clothier, assigned to-day for the benefit of his creditors. The liabilities are unknown.

An Unfortunate From Portland.

HELENA, March 12.—Gustav Kessenger, a man from Portland, was arrested this morning by Officer Krean, charged with begging on the street. He appeared in the station house with several yards of muslin wrapped around his head and jaws. When asked why he did this, he said that he was afflicted with epileptic fits, and he had his head cushioned so that when a fit took him and he fell he would not hurt his head. This story seems very plausible from the appearance of the man. He says he just came out of the hospital in Portland, where he stayed fourteen months. He says he has friends here and when arrested he was begging of them to lend him some money until he received a remittance, which he expected from Germany.

Albany Court Notes.

ALBANY, Or., March 12.—The jury to-day in the case of the State vs. George Mealy, charged with selling whisky without license at Rock Creek, returned a verdict of guilty. The prisoner will be sentenced Thursday.

The suit of M. V. Bilyeu and others, members of the Albany Mining Company, against Dr. E. O. Smith, of Portland, for the possession of the Red Bull mine, in the Santiam district, which was decided in favor of plaintiffs in a justice court and taken up on appeal, was to-day dismissed, the decision being again in favor of plaintiffs. The case will probably be appealed to the supreme court.

The Movement in Real Estate at Vancouver.

VANCOUVER, W. T., March 12.—Yesterday Mrs. Turnbull, of this city, sold lots 3 and 4, on the corner of Fifth and C streets, and lot 8 on the corner of Fourth and B streets, to Gay S. B. Hayden, for the sum of $6000, the two first mentioned lots being at present residence property. This transfer illustrates the great advance in prices of real estate in Vancouver within the last few months.

G. W. Hendley, a real estate man from La Center, is here preparing a printed pamphlet describing the resources of the western part of Clarke county and its advantages for prospective settlers.

Annual Meeting of Stockholders.

PHILADELPHIA, March 12.—The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company was held to-day. In exactly seven minutes from the opening for business the chairman announced that the meeting had adjourned.

The customary resolutions were offered, and everything was found to be satisfactory. A committee of the stockholders will nominate a board of directors.

Failure of Seal Fisheries.

QUEBEC, March 12.—The news from Natashequan and Blanc Sabalons is to the effect that the seal fisheries have been a failure this winter, in consequence of the storms. The number of seals taken is only one-quarter as large as the number captured last year.

A STORM TO THE SOUTH

Trains Delayed on the California & Oregon.

A CALL FOR A BETTER SERVICE

The Rain Accompanied by a Fierce Gale in San Francisco—Considerable Damage to Shipping and Buildings—Coast Notes.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 12.—Rain fell in torrents on the Oregon division of the Southern Pacific system this morning, causing serious damage to the track and obstructing the passage of trains. The north bound train which left this city at 7 A. M. yesterday was detained several hours at Smithson, a small station above Redding, because of a landslide which covered the track there. A work train being near at hand, the labor of removing the debris was accomplished as quickly as possible and the train moved on, but it did not go far before another obstacle was encountered in the shape of an extensive slide near Welsh's spur. This detained the train a much longer time and it was not moving up to the time of the last telegraphic report from the north.

The southbound train, which is due here at 7:15 o'clock this morning, was also delayed below Ashland by slides and washouts.

A CALL FOR TWO TRAINS DAILY.

The Chronicle will say to-morrow: "Business men and travelers are becoming weary of the delay in establishing double train service between this city and Portland. They declare that the present traffic would fully justify the Southern Pacific Company in making this new departure, and that business would increase as a result of the venture. The Southern Pacific people acknowledge that the business of one train running from San Francisco to Portland daily is large, and that it is constantly increasing, but they are disinclined to double the service, as they say it would practically amount to dividing the present business between two trains, which would merely increase the expense of handling it, while it would add nothing to the revenue. However this may be, there is certainly a very urgent demand for a new service. The train now running leaves this city at 7 P. M., and does not arrive in Portland until 10 A. M. of the second day after. A train that would leave here early in the morning, and arrive at Portland in the evening of the second day of the trip, would be a great convenience to the commercial and traveling public. There is a strong desire on the part of many people of this city and Portland for a thirty hour train, and it is to be hoped that the service will soon be given them.

TERRIFIC GALES.

Shipping Damaged and Houses Blown Down in San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 12.—A heavy southeast gale and rain prevailed to-day. At 3 o'clock this afternoon the wind was blowing fifty miles an hour, and considerable damage was done the shipping. The steamer Corona collided with the tug Etna during the gale, and the latter narrowly escaped being sunk. Several vessels got adrift, but were picked up. Two large double houses in course of construction were blown down this afternoon and completely demolished.

RAIN THROUGHOUT THE STATE.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 11.—The continuation of the rain for the last few days is a cause for general satisfaction among farmers located in the northern portion of the state. While the crops are thriving and look well, the same feeling cannot be said to exist in the San Joaquin valley. Rain has not fallen there to any considerable extent.

THE OAKLAND ELECTION.

An Explanation of the Overwhelming Victory of the Citizens' Committee.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 12.—As briefly announced last night, the municipal election in Oakland yesterday resulted in a clean sweep for the citizens ticket by an overwhelming majority, as a protest against the methods of the machine politicians.

The election was the most exciting ever held in that city. Every precaution was taken to prevent frauds and repeating.

Complete returns show that Glascock was elected mayor by the largest majority ever given a candidate for mayor. The members of the city council, board of education, library trustees, police judges, city justices and assessor on the citizens' ticket are elected.

Complete returns from every precinct give Glascock 5148, Ames, 2131. Glascock's majority, 3017.

The Oakland battle involved the whole theory of municipal government. It was the first election under the new charter, which puts almost the full power of the city government in the hands of the mayor.

The people of Oakland, by a vote of nearly two to one, have vindicated the judgment of the men who drew the charter. People living there say that they have elected an upright and able man, who is pledged to non-partisan action, and have defeated the candidate of the dominant party because he represented bad methods and bad men.

A FAMILY QUARREL.

A Sister Sues Her Brother For Wages, and is Answered by a Cross Complaint.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 12.—The suit of Julia Mannix against her brother, Thomas Mannix, for $229 due her for services as housekeeper, was heard to-day before Justice of the Peace Boland.

Miss Mannix testified to her brother's writing to her, while she was in Oregon, and saying that his wife had just died, and that his motherless children needed care, and offering to pay her housekeeper's wages if she would come to San Francisco. She consented, selling her business interests in Oregon, but when she got here he treated her badly, and ended by telling her to "hustle around and make money for his children."

"When he told me that," exclaimed the indignant witness, "I hustled out of his house bag and baggage."

Mannix in his answer denies that he owes his sister any money, and files a cross complaint for $175 for seven months' board.

ALL A BIG HOAX.

The International Company the Author of the Mining Boom.

LOS ANGELES, March 12.—The excitement here over the Santa Clara mines, in Lower California, has abated considerably. Notwithstanding this fact, however, about 200 men from Los Angeles have gone to San Diego, their ostensible destination being the mines.

A party from Ensenada states that the whole report of a rich find is a big fake started by the International Company. The motive was this: By a certain contract, now nearly expired, they were forced to have a large number of men in Lower California, in order to save the concession made to them by the Mexican government. The only way to get them was by the means of a big mining boom, and one was therefore originated and sent out.

THE DISGUSTED PROSPECTORS RETURNING.

LOS ANGELES, March 12.—The disgusted prospectors from the Santa Clara district continue to come back. All agree and the majority state that there is some gold there, but that all the paying places are controlled by the Mexicans. Complaint is also made of the extortionate demands of the Mexican officials for recording the claims.

THE LONE HIGHWAYMAN.

A Stage Again "Held Up" by One in California.

SAN LUIS OBISPO, March 12.—A lone highwayman held up a stage this evening about seven miles east of here. The stage driver thinks he was the same individual who held up the stage at the same place twice before.

The man, wearing a mask and a slouched hat, appeared suddenly at a point on the up grade, leveled his revolver on the driver and ordered the Wells Fargo box thrown out. The driver complied, and was ordered to go on, which he did. The passengers were not molested.

DECAPITATED.

Shocking Fate of a Boy Who Was Stealing a Ride.

MARYSVILLE, Cal., March 12.—This afternoon George Taylor, a lad 13 years old, was riding on the Oroville accommodation train, while it was making a switch. The boy refused to obey the command of a brakeman to get out of his perilous position on the drawhead, from which the link-pin had been taken, lost his footing, and fell to the track. The cars passed over him, completely severing his head from the body.

CALIFORNIA NEWS ITEMS.

A Protest Against a Pardon.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 12.—At the monthly meeting this morning of the board of directors of the San Quentin state prison, Thomas S. Kennett, of Spokane Falls, W. T., protested against the proposed pardon of Jack Kyley, known as "Fat Jack," who is serving time for murder. Kennett is a brother of the prisoner's victim, a woman, and his letter is an eloquent plea for the continuance of the Mosaic law, "an eye for an eye." He considers "Fat Jack" a dangerous man, and says if his life is to be spared it should be spent where the murderer will have no chance to slay innocents. The clerk was instructed to notify Kennett that the board had no jurisdiction, the prisoner having made an application for pardon.

Proposed Harbor Improvements.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 12.—As the seawall is rapidly approaching that portion of the water front occupied by ferry slips and offices, much speculation is rife as to the kind of building that is to replace the present heap of ramshackle structures. Harbor Commissioner W. D. English wants a structure that will not cost less than half a million, with all the accessories of the most complete railway and ferry depots in the world. The other commissioners agree with Mr. English, and as the finances of the board are in a flourishing condition, it is by no means improbable that his plan may succeed beyond even present expectations.

Personal and General Notes.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 12.—William McGuire, a ship owner, of Portland, is again at the Occidental.

J. B. Emery, of Portland, arrived in the city last night on a business trip.

A private letter received from Darlington, Wis., announces that ex-Congressman Henry S. Magoon died at that place on the 3d inst. Magoon in his lifetime had many friends in this city and in Oregon.

A bill authorizing the supervisors of the city to double the tax, if necessary, for the support of the Golden Gate Park, of this city, passed the senate yesterday by a vote of 29 to nothing.

It is reported that the Union Pacific surveyors in Northern California and Nevada have made preliminary surveys covering nearly 250 miles in the past three months.

Dr. F. H. Huse, who is just back from Portland, is getting the new medical service of the Oregon division into shape. The appointments of new physicians for that division will soon be recommended.

Slowly Messrs. McAllister and Houghton are clearing up the Chinese habeas corpus cases in the United States courts. There are now but eight hundred cases remaining on the calendar of the United States district court, out of the two thousand which graced it nine months ago. By the end of the year the calendar will, in all possibility, be cleared, and unless the United States supreme court decides that "certificate" Chinamen can return, the harvest which certain attorneys have been reaping will be over for good.

Special Imports to San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 12.—The imports of specie at San Francisco by water in February were $269,262, and for the first two months of the year $477,296, principally from the following sources: Mexico, $419,075; British Columbia, $52,534. The amount is substantially the same as last year.

The imports by rail from Mexico were no doubt larger than by water, but there is no public record of the same. This is also true of British Columbia, with which this city now has rail connection. Without these imports by rail the value of the statistics of specie imports are much impaired.

A Quarantine Station for San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 12.—Hospital Cove on the northwest side of Angel Island, seven-eighths of a mile from Point Tiburon and three miles from the San Francisco shore, has been selected as the location for a quarantine station, which the government has decided to establish at this port. One hundred and three thousand dollars has been appropriated by congress, but it is estimated that it will require nearly half a million dollars to carry out the design.

Funeral of a Rabbi.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 12.—The officers of the Congregation Emanuel met this afternoon to make arrangements for the funeral of their deceased rabbi, Dr. Elkam Cohn, and set the time for 10 A. M. Thursday. A programme was mapped out for the ceremonies to take place at the temple on Sutter street, whence the funeral is to start. The details will be submitted to the members of the deceased's family before they are finally decided upon.

Chief Crowley Will Enforce the Law.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 12.—Chief of Police Crowley has instructed the captains of the different divisions to notify the patrolmen under them to strictly enforce the ordinance recently passed by the supervisors making it a misdemeanor for the proprietor of any public place to allow minors under 18 years of age to take part in any game of cards or pool, or to be present where they are played.

Fallen Heir to a Fortune.

NAPA, March 12.—J. L. Fisher, a young German who has been employed by one of the prominent orchardists of this valley for some months past, has just fallen heir to a German estate of $400,000. He has bought the property of his employer, an orchard of twenty acres, and will at once build a fine residence. His first draft of $50,000 has arrived.

Dry Dock To Be Completed.

VALLEJO, March 12.—Orders were received at the navy yard to-day to proceed with the work upon the new stone dry dock, the last congress having appropriated $80,000 to complete the structure, which has been seventeen years in construction and cost upward of $2,000,000.

Eloped to Oregon.

CHICO, California, March 12.—James Hale, a "sport," eloped with Mrs. Fannie Terrill Sunday morning, taking the North bound train for Oregon. Mrs. Terrill is a grass widow and leaves a child behind in care of her mother, Mrs. Tilton, of the Tilton house.

A Verdict of "Not Guilty."

SAN FRANCISCO, March 12.—The jury in the United States district court to-day returned a verdict of "not guilty" in the case of George Keyes, charged with attempting to smuggle fifty four boxes of opium from the steamer Wilmington.

Ubiquitous "Jack the Ripper."

GRASS VALLEY, Cal., March 12.—Frequent notices posted on the outskirts of the town, signed by "Jack, the Ripper," have caused some fright among women and children in this vicinity.

A Rough Day on San Francisco Bay.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 12.—The bay was exceedingly rough to-day. Strong wind and heavy rains prevailed, greatly impeding navigation. During the day several slight accidents occurred.

Surveyors Encamped.

REDDING, March 12.—Sixty Union Pacific railroad surveyors are camped in town, who have been employed in surveying through the northern part of the state.

No Exemption for Mortgages.

Shipping.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 12.—Departed—Barkentine Kate Flickinger, Chenik bay. Cleared—Stmr Gertie Story, Cook's inlet.

WEST VIRGINIA'S GOVERNOR.

The Supreme Court Declares That Wilson Can Hold Over.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., March 12.—The supreme court this morning decided in the Goff-Wilson gubernatorial mandamus case that Governor Wilson is entitled to hold over until the contest between Fleming and Goff is settled as to the seat. The fight will now be between Wilson and Carr on quo warranto proceedings.

The opinion of the court was in no sense a surprise to anybody, both republicans and democrats anticipating the action of the court.

An interesting phase of the situation, and one which is much commented upon this evening is that Governor Wilson has the situation fully under his own control at present, except so far as he may be bothered by the legal proceedings instituted by President Carr. By failing to call the legislature together Wilson will remain at the helm indefinitely, or until the action of the new legislature, and is thus enabled to thoroughly protect the claims of Judge Fleming against General Goff. In other words, if Goff has a case, Wilson, by refusing to call the legislature together, can keep him out for two years to come unless the federal authorities interfere.

Carr's proceedings will be taken up at once by the court, but when an opinion will be had is very uncertain.

A SHARP DROP IN WHEAT.

Almost a Panic on the Chicago Exchange Yesterday.

CHICAGO, March 12.—The May wheat market opened this morning at 96⅝ cents and advanced to 98⅞ cents. Then a sudden weakness was developed and within a short time the price dropped to 95½ cents. The clique made no effort to keep prices up. Everybody wanted to sell and for a time there was almost a panic. The principal element of weakness was the showing made by the government crop reports just published.

PATRIOTIC IRISHMEN.

Eight Thousand Dollars Raised for the Parnell Fund at Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, March 12.—A meeting of the citizens of this city to express their confidence in the integrity and patriotism of Charles Stewart Parnell was held at the Academy of Music to-night. Mrs. Delia S. Parnell, the mother of the Irish patriot, was present.

Governor Beaver presided over the meeting, which was addressed by Senator Spooner, of Wisconsin, ex-Governor Curtis, of Pennsylvania, and many others. At the conclusion of the speaking a subscription of $8000 was realized for the Parnell fund.

CABLE NOTES.

Forty-two Persons Drowned.

MADRID, March 12.—The government has received dispatches announcing the loss of the steamer Remus, which had a Spanish military expedition on board. The vessel was wrecked off the Philippine islands. Forty-two persons were drowned and 127 were saved.

Anniversary of the Great Blizzard.

NEW YORK, March 12.—This being the anniversary of the great blizzard, it is observed in a unique manner. The World this evening reprints the entire story of the storm. The parties who were snowbound at various points in the state have given banquets and reunions this evening. The pilot boats of Staten island have their flags at half mast in memory of the scores of pilots who were lost in that storm.

AN EDITOR MURDERED

The Victim a Man of Prominence in His State.

HE INTERFERED WITH A RAKE

The Criminal in Danger of Violence at the Hands of an Angry and Sorrowing Community—The Murdered Man's Career.

CHARLESTON, S. C., March 12.—Captain F. W. Dawson, editor of the News and Courier and agent of the associated press in this city, was murdered this afternoon by T. B. McDow, a physician of this city. It seems that McDow, who is a married man, father of a family, has been too familiar with a Swiss maid in Captain Dawson's family, and Captain Dawson visited McDow at his office to remonstrate with him. Words and blows followed and the encounter ended in McDow's shooting Captain Dawson through the heart. The murderer then locked up his office and went out. Three hours later he surrendered himself to the police authorities, and the body of the murdered man was found lying in McDow's office. The murder causes intense excitement, and there is talk of lynching.

The murderer, who is a married man with several children, has the reputation of being a rake. To-night the city is wrapped in mourning and the murder is the subject of discussion in every quarter of the town.

The murderer was hurried to the jail, as he had surrendered himself and for the present is safe from lynching. The entire community is incensed.

THE MURDERED EDITOR.

Captain Dawson came from England in the early part of the late rebellion, being then a very young man, and espoused the cause of the confederacy. He served through the war in the forces with distinction and since the close of the hostilities has been engaged in journalism. For many years he has been editor of the News and Courier, and one of the leading democratic politicians of the state. His journal was the most powerful in the state and supported all the measures of his party for obtaining control of the government of South Carolina.

Outside of politics, Captain Dawson was active in promoting the material welfare of the commonwealth, and when Charleston and the other South Carolina cities were visited by ruinous earthquakes, he took a prominent part in raising funds for relief in the North.

Captain Dawson achieved considerable distinction on account of his steadfast refusal some years ago to engage in a duel in response to a challenge from another prominent citizen. He boldly announced himself opposed to dueling methods, and for this attitude received indorsement from the people. He was held in the highest respect, and prominent citizens declare that his killing must have been a deliberate and outrageous murder.

ATROCIOUS ACTS.

A Whole Township Terrorized by a Party of Masked Robbers.

PITTSBURG, March 12.—McClellandtown, a district twelve miles from Uniontown in Fayette county, was terrorized last night by a party of armed masked robbers, who entered a number of houses and, after torturing the inmates until they gave up whatever money was in their possession, ransacked the houses from cellar to garret.

The first house entered was that of a farmer named Anderson. The robbers demanded Anderson's money and upon his protesting that he had none, placed hot coals to his feet and compelled him to give them $30, all that he had. The next place visited was Farmer Lilly's, a short distance from Anderson's. The old man said that he had no money, and the desperadoes tied him in bed and set fire to it. Lilly begged for mercy and finally gave the robbers $130. He was then unbound and the fire extinguished.

The gang is believed to be the same that robbed Farmer Core, of Franklin township, Saturday night, of $300.

The residents of Fayette county are greatly excited, and armed searching parties will be organized at once to capture the robbers.

FOR ENTICING LITTLE GIRLS.

The Milwaukee Chinamen Held in Heavy Bonds for Trial.

MILWAUKEE, March 12.—The trial of the Chinamen, charged with enticing little girls to their dens, was concluded this morning after five children, whose ages ranged from 8 to 13 years, had been examined. The charges were borne out by the story of each witness, and the two heathens were held in $5000 bail each for trial at the next term of court. They were escorted back to jail under a guard of a large detail of police and followed by a crowd of several hundred persons, who yelled and jeered at them, but no violence was attempted. Beyond smashing the windows of a dozen laundries last night, and noisy, threatening gatherings in the streets, there has been nothing approaching violence. There were not more than ninety five Chinamen in the city and many of them have left town. There was no demonstration to-night and no more trouble is expected.

A MURDERER AND A BIGAMIST.

Visited in His Cell by Ten Women, Each Claiming To Be His Wife.

KANSAS CITY, March 12.—Hiram Adams, a colored deputy constable, shot and killed Samuel Patterson, a colored barber, in a quarrel over a 50-cent dice game this morning. Several hundred negroes visited Adams in his cell during the day, among them ten women, each of whom claimed to be his wife.

THE KNIGHTS OF LABOR.

Three High Officials Forcibly Ejected From a Meeting in Chicago.

CHICAGO, March 12.—General Worthy Foreman Wheat, district master workman, Mrs. Rogers, and Worth Foreman Lineholm, of district assembly No. 24, of the Knights of Labor, were to-day forcibly ejected from a meeting of the Waiters' local assembly No. 7463.

Wheat and Mrs. Rogers were told by the irate waiters to "get out." The two retired after suspending the assembly, which now proposes to secede permanently, and join T. B. Barry's Brotherhood of United Labor. Barry, in fact, was present at the meeting, and some peppery talk by him was the immediate cause of the row. The meeting had been called by the waiters to protest against the removal of Anarchist George Schilling from the office of district master workman. Schilling was suspended two weeks ago by the court of the district, it is claimed, without trial. The charge was insubordination and disrespect to General Master Workman Powderly.

Mrs. Rogers was soon installed as Schilling's successor, and to-day attended the meeting of the waiters, accompanied by General Worthy Foreman Wheat and District Foreman Lineholm.

Two of the waiters had invited Barry to be present, and the meeting had hardly opened when Barry began a bitter denunciation of Wheat and Powderly, stigmatizing them as hypocrites and corruptionists.

Lineholm objected to this language. He was immediately set upon by a number of waiters and dumped into the street, while Wheat and Mrs. Rogers had a scarcely less hurried exit.

NEGROES EMIGRATING.

Planters Much Distressed by the Loss of Their Wonted Help.

RALEIGH, N. C., March 12.—The Southern agents moving negro families to Arkansas are quietly, but successfully at work. Their operations are confined thus far to a few counties on the railroad lines. From Goldsboro several thousand persons have already gone. Many large plantations are almost deserted. The negro drummers are paid $5 for each family secured. The entire expense of the transportation to Little Rock is paid by the agents.

The negroes say that they are promised forty acres of land, a brick house, a cow and a dollar and a half a day for labor. They know nothing of their destinations. The removal is by families. The planters in the country affected are greatly embarrassed at the loss of farm hands at the beginning of the planting season.

IN THE HOUSE OF COMMONS.

A Discussion Concerning the Letter of Stevenson on Samoan Affairs.

LONDON, March 12.—In the house of commons to-night the government was questioned with reference to the statement made by Robert L. Stevenson, writing from Hawaii, regarding the objectionable conduct of the German consul, Knappe, in Samoa.

Ferguson, under foreign secretary, in reply, admitted that Stevenson's statement was correct, but pointed out that Germany had since recalled the offending consul. The under secretary promised that papers covering the subject should be laid before parliament.

Lord George Hamilton, first lord of the admiralty, announced that Australia promised to give £85,000 annually for ten years toward the building of the proposed new ships of war, also to fully maintain the vessels when completed.

HONORING BALL PLAYERS.

Arrangements Being Made for Their Entertainment While in England.

LONDON, March 12.—The speaker of the house of commons has made arrangements for the Chicago and All American baseball clubs to visit the house in a body. The Century club, on nomination of White, secretary of the American legation, has elected the players honorary members during their stay in London.

RECEIVED BY THE PRINCE OF WALES.

LONDON, March 12.—The Chicago and All Americans played to-day on the Kensington oval grounds which were crowded. The players met with an enthusiastic reception. The Prince of Wales received the teams in the pavilion and shook hands with all. He complimented them on their excellent playing. The game resulted, Chicagos, 7; All Americas, 4.

Indisposed Congressmen.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—As a result of the exposure on inauguration day, congressmen and newspaper correspondents are more or less dangerously ill and confined to their rooms.

Ex-Representative Symes, of Colorado, is dangerously ill with a complication of diseases; Representative Lee, of Virginia, is still quite sick with pneumonia. Representative Buchanan, of New Jersey, and Representative Laird, of Nebraska, are still very ill. Representative Cutcheon, of Michigan, is much better and will be out in a day or two. Ex-Representative Yoder has recovered from a brief illness and is able to be out again.

AN INTERESTING LETTER.

OFFICE OF THE ELECTRIC LIGHT AND POWER CO., ALBANY, January 28.

Messrs. Russell & Co., Portland, Oregon—Gentlemen: Your letter of inquiry regarding the working of the sixty horse power engine purchased is at hand. In reply will say that the engine is all you recommend it, both as to power, regulation and economy. We are running one Schuyler arc-light dynamo, forty 2000-candle power lights, and one Heisler dynamo, the former requiring about thirty horse power and the latter twenty five horse power. Both are fully loaded and the friction cannot absorb less than five-horse power, which is working the engine to its full guaranteed capacity, and the automatic regulation is so perfect that in plunging either dynamo in or out makes no perceptible difference in the speed; and we have started from cold water and run all night with one cord of wood. Respectfully,

N. H. ALLEN.

FARMINGTON W. T.

Residence Burned—The New School House—A Grain Elevator To Be Built.

FARMINGTON, W. T., March 11.—This week has found Farmington blessed with its usual spring weather, the sun has shone brightly, birds are rapidly increasing in numbers and the ground on the higher lands is in excellent condition for plowing. The farmers not failing to realize the favorable indications for fine harvests, are busy fencing and plowing.

Large quantities of barbed wire are constantly leaving town, showing that new lands are to be broken, and a large acreage is expected this year than ever before.

Last Sabbath as the church bells had sounded their last notes for evening service the much dreaded alarm of "fire" rang out, and our people rushed from their houses to find the residence of Mr. Harlow in flames. The fire was occasioned by the bursting of a lamp. Nothing was saved, one of the children owing his life to the presence of mind of the father. People all sympathize with them in their loss.

The new school house is fast nearing completion and this week will find the painters and plasterers busy at work. The month of April will find the children in their new quarters, and it is to be hoped that the youth will have the pride to see how clean and free from scars of any kind they can keep this building which to-day is the pride of every citizen in the district. The fixtures have been ordered from the East and are of the latest and most approved patterns.

During the week we had a conversation with a young man who but lately arrived from the East, and asked the question so often heard: "Well, how do you like Farmington?" and were not surprised at the answer: "First rate; I only have one fault to find, and that is I did not come here years ago." This we find is the general verdict, not only for our city but for the entire Palouse country. Some few are at first disappointed when they visit our section for the first time and expect to see land as far as the eye can reach and as level as some parts of Illinois, and find instead rolling country, and wheat growing on the summits of the highest hills. But when once used to their disappointed ideas they not only become firm admirers of the country, but seem to have a perfect fascination for the same.

A large number of strangers are daily seen on our streets, and lots are being purchased for building and speculative purposes very rapidly.

A large grain elevator will be erected at the depot grounds in time to receive this season's wheat. Taylor Bros. will place a roller process plant in their mill this season and increase the capacity of the same.

Our artesian well still sends out its stream of pure water, and is the center of attraction to visiting strangers.

WALKER ACCEPTS.

He is Induced to Become Chairman of the Interstate Railway Association.

CHICAGO, March 12.—Interstate Commerce Commissioner A. F. Walker has accepted the chairmanship of the inter-state railway association. It is understood that he was offered $25,000 a year, guaranteed for three years.

Mr. Walker will close up his affairs in Washington, and enter upon his new duties in about three weeks.

Ericsson's Will.

NEW YORK, March 12.—Ericsson's will is probated, and the estate goes principally to his relatives in Sweden. His assistants in mechanical construction are liberally remembered. Each gets $20,000 and 10 per cent from the income of Ericsson's patents on the extension engines, hydraulic pump, solar engines and sun motor.

When Will They Be Ready For Service.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—Secretary Tracy sent a telegram to-day to the commandant of the Mare Island navy yard, desiring to know at the earliest possible moment when the Iroquois and Adams could be placed in commission for sea service. These ships were but recently returned from the South Pacific station.

Representing Alaska.

NEW YORK, March 12.—The committee of the Washington centennial has been notified by Governor Swineford of the appointment of Rev. A. E. Austin, Thomas S. Howell and Lieutenant-Commander Newell, U. S. N., as the representatives of Alaska.

Wabash & Western Election.

ST. LOUIS, March 12.—At the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Wabash & Western the old board were re-elected except that A. N. McChavin succeeds E. A. Elmer, and Charles M. Hays, general manager, is added.

The Prohibition Amendment Defeated.

BOSTON, March 12.—Only partial returns from New Hampshire elections have been received, but there seems to be little doubt that the constitutional prohibition amendment has been defeated by a decided majority.

Death of an Ex-Justice.

BALTIMORE, March 12.—Hon. John A. Campbell, ex justice of the supreme court of the United States and assistant confederate secretary of war, died in this city this afternoon, aged nearly 98.

BARBER HARRY SEAVERS STABBED.

The Result of a Threat to Spit in an Ex-Convict's Face.

Harry Seavers, a barber 26 years old, was stabbed in the left side of the face and on the left side of the head by Charles Engelke, an ex-convict, in Ericson's saloon, on First and Jefferson streets, at 12:30 this morning.

Seavers, Engelke and another man had been drinking for two or three hours and were talking earnestly about some matter when Seavers threatened to spit in Engelke's face. Engelke then drew a pocket knife and struck Seavers' left cheek bone, inflicting a painful cut and then struck him on the top of the head, after which he pocketed his knife and went to his room in the American Exchange hotel.

Seavers' injuries are not dangerous.

Engelke was arrested by Policeman Kerrigan, but it is doubtful if Seavers will prosecute him.

Does the Earth Really Move?

Science says it does, but we cannot help wondering sometimes if there isn't some mistake about it, when we see how stubbornly certain old fogies cling to their musty and antiquated ideas. It was believed once that consumption was incurable, and although it has been clearly demonstrated that it is not, thousands of old time physicians close their eyes and put their hands to their ears and refuse to abandon the theory. But for all that the world moves on, and Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery continues to rescue sufferers from consumptives' graves. It is a sure cure for this dreaded disease, if taken in time. All scrofulous diseases—and consumption is included in the list—yield to it.

An advertisement in the agricultural papers commences with this crushing bit of advice: "Grind your own bones." It seems horrible at first sight, but perhaps it only referred to a convenient method of dealing with family skeletons.—Terre Haute Express.

THE PARNELL COMMISSION.

Testimony Regarding the Receipts and Expenses of the League.

LONDON, March 12.—The Parnell commission resumed its sitting to-day. An accountant testified that he had examined the books of the Hibernian bank but was unable to trace the persons to whom money on checks was paid or from where the checks came. Between November, 1879, and September, 1882, the league received £261,269 and paid out £261,276. The bank refused to allow witnesses to examine the ledger or slips. The league paid the ladies' league £12,306, and the relief fund £2025, and disbursed £10,000 in the defense of prisoners.

The witness further testified that he examined the league's book, and the total receipts in 1883 amounted to £11,000, of which America sent £1000, Australia and New Zealand £8000. In 1884 the receipts were £11,000; in 1885, £18,000; in 1886, £17,000. The National league's total receipts were over £100,000.

The counsel for the Times applied for an order for the examination of Parnell's private account with the National bank. Parnell gave assent to the examination.

Coffey, a reporter from Cork, testified that he made a statement to a policeman who promised him he should be paid beyond his greatest expectations. Witness declared the statement was absolutely false. This evidence created a sensation.

Coffey further testified that he purposely made the statement which he gave the policeman sensational because he knew it would take. He received £115 from the Times. Justice Hannon repeatedly rebuked the witness sharply for contempt, and finally ordered him into custody. Adjourned.

Subject for Another Funeral.

When a red nosed loafer of a hackman has the power to stop a funeral procession in the streets and hold it until a private carriage is moved out of line, things have got to a limit where boot leather ought to interfere.

SUNNYSIDE ADDITION GLENHAVEN PARK.

CHOICE OF TWO MOTOR LINES

Homes for Workingmen! Big Lots! Quick Transportation!

Sunnyside addition adjoins Sunnyside on the east and fronts on Hawthorne avenue (the finest boulevard on the East Side being 70 feet wide). The land is all cleared, is high, affording fine view and perfect drainage and slopes gradually to the west and east. Work on the Sunnyside extension of the motor line to Mount Tabor commences this (Monday) morning the line passing directly by the tract and the rails are now scattered along Hawthorne avenue for the motor line to be constructed immediately on the other side. It will thus be seen that Sunnyside addition lies IMMEDIATELY BETWEEN TWO MOTOR LINES thus affording rapid and cheap means of communication with the cities of Portland and East Portland. The lots are all large many of them being 137 feet in depth. The tract is beautifully laid out, the width of the streets conforming to the established width of the main thoroughfares of East Portland. The soil is the best on the East side being entirely free from gravel thus insuring beautiful lawns and well kept flower gardens, and the water is of the purest quality. Lots $400 to $550 each. One-fourth cash, balance in from one to two years. Do not under any circumstances delay but buy now and secure a home and at the same time property that a few years hence can not be bought for treble the amount that is asked for it now.

DANCING FLOOR TO BE LAID

After the directors adjourned a meeting was held by the executive committee and the matter of laying a first class dancing floor in the music hall was decided upon.

The question of fencing in the ground of the association was also considered but not finally disposed of.

LAYMAN'S LICENSE LAW IN FORCE

Judge Catlin Holds Such To Be the Case and Rejects Two Applications

The applications of Fred Rinik and Tandler & Polly, of Fulton, for licenses to sell liquor, were yesterday rejected by Judge Catlin because they did not conform to the requirements of the new Layman law, particularly sections 4 and 5, which provide that any one wanting a license must obtain the signatures of the majority of the legal voters of his precinct and publish the petition in a newspaper for four consecutive weeks, or post it publicly, together with a notice of the time he intends to ask the county court for a license.

Judge Catlin held that the Layman law is now in effect, notwithstanding it lacks the approval of Governor Pennoyer. It contains an emergency clause reading, "Inasmuch as there is urgent need of a law to prevent and punish the unlawful sale of spirituous, malt and vinous liquors, this act shall take effect upon its approval by the governor," and Judge Catlin maintains that it was the intent of the legislature to put the law into effect immediately, and further that the law is now in force just the same as if Governor Pennoyer had signed it.

OLD J. P'S VISIT WELCOMED.

The Windows of Heaven Were Slightly Opened—A Gentle Downpour.

The well known old favorite Oregon mist resumed business yesterday and sent down a gentle drizzle-drozzle for a while, which gradually widened out into a light shower, and as night came on changed to a pouring rain. It was wonderful to see how every species of vegetation was pushed forward by the warm showers. The grass assumed a coloring which vied with that of the Emerald Isle, and buds expanded into leaves and blossoms as if by magic. One of the prettiest sights imaginable was presented in an up-town garden, where a peach tree in full bloom had for a background a graceful weeping willow, the long drooping twigs of which were clothed with delicate leaflets of a most charming shade of green, which set off the gay blossoms of the peach to great advantage. The cherry trees are bursting into bloom, and in a short time the whole country will be white with blossoms. The frogs have come to the surface, and their melodious voices laid the evening breeze, and put one in mind of fried frogs and champagne frappe.

NOTICE TO MARINERS

OFFICE U S LIGHTHOUSE INSPECTOR,
THIRTEENTH DISTRICT,
PORTLAND, Or, March 12, 1889

Notice is hereby given that on March 15, 1889 the following named stake lights will be established on Puget sound and adjacent waters.

Point Munroe, W T, near Port Madison—A fixed red lens lantern light suspended from a white stake, 16 feet high, on the spit, about 10 feet from high water mark, and 100 yards from the low water end of the spit. From the stake light West Point lighthouse bears E S E ½ E distant four miles. The light is about 20 feet above sea level.

William Point Bellingham Bay, W T—A fixed white lens lantern light suspended from a white stake ten feet high and eight feet from the edge of the bluff about 100 yards W from the north end of the point. The light is about 30 feet above sea level.

Taylor's Spit Hale's Passage W T—A fixed white lens lantern light suspended from a white stake 13 feet high and about 50 yards from the low water end of Taylor's spit, on the east side of Lummi island, W T, and is about one mile from the north end of the island. The light serves to guide vessels through Hale's passage. The light is about 27 feet above sea level.

The following additions and changes have been made to the buoyage and day marks in Puget sound and adjacent waters.

Belle Rock, Rosario straits, W T—A second class whistling buoy, painted black and marked "Bell Rock" has been established about 100 yards N by E from Belle rock. The buoy is moored in eleven fathoms of water, and is close to the edge of the kelp. The rock is bare at extreme low water. The currents in this vicinity are very strong. In very smooth water this buoy may not whistle.

Partridge Bank Straits of Fuca, W T—The first-class can buoy has been replaced. The buoy is moored in four fathoms of water, near the shoalest part of the bank.

Point Francis Hale's passage W T—A second class nun buoy, painted red and numbered 2, has been established about ⅝ mile W S W ¾ W from the south end of Point Francis, west side of Bellingham bay, W T. The buoy is moored in five fathoms of water, and is close to the end of a spit that makes off from Point Francis. The buoy should be left to the eastward.

Shag Rock, south side of Orcas island W T—An iron spindle nineteen feet high, with a white barrel on top, has been established on Shag rock, on the west side of the entrance to East sound, Orcas island. The rock just shows at high water and the ledge extends about fifty yards to the northward of the rock. There is deep water between the rock and the south shore of Orcas island but the passage is not generally used.

PERSONAL

Mrs T B Foster has returned from an extended visit to her home at Roseburg.

A note from S C Beckwith, dated New York, March 6, states that Sol Blumauer, of Portland, had called on that date.

Mr Henry Weinhard, who has been quite sick for the past three weeks with inflammatory rheumatism is still confined to his bed and not able to see visitors.

NOTE AND COMMENT.

While a man at Carlisle Pa., was running a planer his coat tail got tangled and was fortunately torn off. A bit of wood in his pocket blocked a cogwheel and saved his life. The wood was a piece of John Brown's scaffold.

A great flume has been completed at San Diego, Cal. It extends fifty miles from the western slope of Cuyamaca mountain, where there is a reservoir containg a four years' supply of water at an elevation of 4500 feet. The cost was $900,000.

Ben Butler is the champion mascot of the nineteenth century. By the admission of the new states the government is obliged to purchase 8000 national flags with forty stars apiece, and Ben, as owner of the United States Bunting Company, will be $200,000 richer by the transaction.

General Harrison was 55 years, 7 months and 14 days old when he was inaugurated. His grandfather was the oldest man ever elected president, being in his 68th year. General Grant was the youngest, in his 47th year. The average age of presidents at the time of their inauguration is 56 years. General Harrison is but little under the average president in years.

The new fledged emperor of Germany has issued a cabinet order "forbidding his mother to use the imperial crown on her coat-of arms and directing that in future her rank shall only be recognized in the inferior capacity of a queen of Prussia." His majesty's next decree will probably direct his court historians to refer to his departed father as the late Marquis of Brandenburg.

Luella Christy, the 13-year-old daughter of a wealthy farmer in Kentucky, paddled a skiff across a raging torrent while her father stood on the bank she had just left, with a pistol in his hand, threatening to shoot her lover, who was on the opposite shore. After several narrow escapes from foundering she reached her lover, and they hurried to a neighboring town, where they were married.

An advertisement in an Edinburgh paper might be copied in this country. "Servant—Wanted, by a family living in an Edinburgh flat, a general servant, who will kindly superintend her mistress in cooking and washing, nursing the baby, etc. She will have every Sunday and two nights out in each week, and the use of the drawing room for the reception of her friends. Address A. F., Scotsman office."

A New York physician insists that no spirit can inscribe a message on a sheet of paper held in his—the physician's—hand, and announces through the New York Tribune that he will give $250 to any medium who can persuade a spirit to accomplish the task. Here would seem to be an excellent opportunity for any spirit of a friendly and accommodating disposition to do some needy medium a good turn.

NOTES FROM THE EAST SIDE.

There Is a Lack of Harmony in Midway School District.

He Says He Will Not Sue the City—Patent Butter Machine—Big Sale of Cattle—Various News Items

It seems that the new district—No 21—Midway created recently, is not quite as harmonious as might be desired. At the public school meeting held in this district March 4 for the purpose of electing directors and a clerk and levying a tax for the year, the proceedings were somewhat irregular. A gentleman who was prominent in organizing the new district, made this statement:

"Being a taxpayer in the district, I have somewhat investigated the matter, and find that there is some misunderstanding between taxpayers and directors of the district. At their annual meeting, when the time to levy the tax was in motion, the chairman of the old board told all the taxpayers to vacate the room, that the directors desired to hold a 'close meeting,' and at that meeting they levied a five mill tax. The board have since found out that it was illegal, so they have now called a meeting to be held March 19, for the purpose of levying a tax, for what purpose the notice does not state. If I understand the school law, the annual meeting was illegal, and business transacted by the present board will be illegal. I also understand that the retiring clerk had his annual report made out, and was not called upon to read it, which is the most essential thing to be done at an annual school meeting. For my part I am going to draw off from that district and get back in No. 2, where everything is prosperous and harmony and system prevails. Still, much credit is due the ones who organised district 21. I think they started out in earnest, but trying to please every one they pleased no one."

Most of the Midway school district was cut off from No 2, and now there is a petition before the county superintendent to cut off the east half of the new district and reattach it to No 2, with fair prospects of its being favorably considered. As near as can be ascertained all the trouble was caused through ignorance of the school law and want of harmony.

Those interested should ascertain just what is necessary to right matters, and then go ahead. The new district started out under favorable circumstances, and it is unfortunate this trouble has arisen.

HE WON'T SUE THE CITY

Nearly everyone who has had a bill before the city council on account of smallpox has always threatened to sue the city unless the account was settled, and it is very refreshing to find some one who does not make such a threat. Undertaker Dunning has a bill before the city council for burying smallpox patients. This bill was referred to a committee at the last meeting. He asked several of the councilmen what had been done with the bill, but assured them he would not sue the city, whatever was done.

LARGE SALE OF CATTLE.

Mr A H Breyman has just returned from Seattle where he consummated the sale of between $50,000 and $60,000 worth of cattle. This stock is on the range in Eastern Oregon and Washington territory, and was the property of Breyman & Summerville, and closes out the larger portion of their cattle. It is the largest cattle sale that has been reported for some time. Mr Breyman reports quite a boom in Seattle.

NEW BUTTER MACHINE

Mr Rankin, of Fairview, has just completed the new butter factory he has been building at that place. He will put the milk into the machine and it will come out butter. Quite a saving of time is thus effected by the process.

PERSONAL AND GENERAL.

A social will take place this evening in the Y M C A hall.

Mr J S. Purdom, of Cervais, has removed to this city and will engage in the real estate business.

The bonds of Mrs. Gardner, the newly elected clerk of school district No 49, have been filed, with the names of A H Breyman and John Kenworthy as sureties. The district has a lady clerk and lady teachers.

A member of the boat committee said last night that an incorporated company would be formed the latter part of the month, with shares at about $16 each, for the purpose of owning and operating a boat. This will not be done until after the county court has been heard from.

Monday evening the fine horse driven by H. D McGuire the real estate man, by some means had a nail run into one of his hind hoofs. The injury was not noticed that night, and when taken out yesterday morning he was very lame. The horse was taken to the shop and after some trouble the nail was removed. It was imbedded in the hoof underneath fully an inch.

ARKANSAS POLITICAL THUGS.

Outrages Perpetrated at Plummerville—The Fate of a Detective.

Special to Chicago Tribune

LITTLE ROCK, Ark, March 7—The detectives who have been at work on the Clayton assassination for over a month are still here and are daily accumulating additional evidence against the Conway county band of assassins. A remarkably strong case has been prepared and the detectives feel confident that when they present their evidence to a jury a conviction is sure to follow.

In the meantime the democratic thugs of Plummerville continue to perpetrate all manner of outrages. So apprehensive have they become that no stranger is permitted to remain in the town more than a few minutes. The latest outrage reported from there was told to-day by a citizen of the place. Several days ago a young man who gave his name as Wilson and who pretended to be a barber arrived in Plummerville and announced his intention of opening a shop. He obtained board with Mrs McCravin, at whose house Colonel Clayton was killed, and the same day dropped into the postoffice to mail a letter. Unfortunately he made some pertinent remarks concerning the assassination of Colonel Clayton, when Postmaster Smith, a big, burly thug whom President Cleveland appointed, stepped out from behind his counter, shook his fist in the stranger's face, and accused him of being a detective.

"We've got no use for chaps like you in this place," the postmaster is reported to have said, "and the sooner you get out the better. Some of you sneaking detectives will get hurt the first thing you know. Clayton got what he or any other —— —— Republican ought to get. His heart ought to have been dug out and stuck in his mouth."

This and much more is credited to the postmaster, and his remarks were freely interspersed with the foulest profanity. Wilson, who is supposed to have been a detective, took the abuse without offering to resent it, and went out. Postmaster Smith, then sent for Charley Pate, the town marshal, told him that Wilson was a detective, and said he ought to be driven out of town. Pate immediately went to Mrs McCravin's, and telling her that Wilson was a bad character, suggested that she advise him to get away from Plummerville before night.

Mrs. McCravin, knowing the desperate character of the people there, told Wilson what Pate had said and warned him that his life was in peril if he remained over night. Wilson took the hint and with his valise in hand started up the railroad track, intending to walk to Conway. He had got about two miles away from Plummerville when Pate, accompanied by two others, overtook him and arrested him on charge of stealing a razor. He was brought back to Plummerville, tried, convicted and sent to jail for thirty days. He has not had an opportunity to communicate with his friends and is still locked up. The informant says there was absolutely no foundation for the charge and that it was simply trumped up for the purpose of putting Wilson out of the way.

MONTHLY MEETING OF THE C B OF C

Bills Ordered Paid—Systematic Records of all Charity Cases

The annual meeting of the board of directors of the City Board of Charities, was held at the office of the society, No 241 Morrison street, Monday evening. There were present George H Williams, J C Flanders, Ross C Houghton, John Kiesterman, and W G Steel.

In the absence of the president, the meeting was called to order by the vice president, George H Williams.

Charles F Ladd, the treasurer of the board, submitted his monthly report, and bills to the amount of $769 60 were ordered paid.

The remainder of the evening was spent in a general discussion as to the best methods of keeping a systematic record of all charity cases in the city. As the City Board of Charities is designed largely to act as an intermediate or as a co-operative board for all charitable associations in the city, it is desirable that a convenient record should be kept of every case, under whatever society it may come.

The system introduced by Secretary W G Steel, now in vogue, is a most excellent one. Printed cards are furnished each of the charitable societies, to be filled out and returned to the C B of C. Each card represents one case, and, when properly filled out, gives the name of the applicant, occupation, present residence, previous residence, names of other members of the family (if any), length of residence in the United States and in the city and when taken by the society. After these cards are received by the secretary, a copy of each is taken on a similar card, and these fac similes are filed away in drawers, alphabetically arranged.

The cards in these drawers are open for inspection to all who may want to examine them, but as they are only lettered and do not give the name of the society sending them the work of each society is strictly confidential. This system of lettering and numbering gives the public all the necessary information regarding each case, while the source of that information is withheld and only known to the board itself.

The intention of the board is to keep a record of every case thereby precluding the possibility of one person obtaining charity from more than one society.

Ethel—When does your breach of promise suit take place, Clara? Clara (sobbing)—T—to-morrow. Ethel (sympathizingly)—I am sorry to see you so overcome, Clara, dear Clara—O, it's nothing, Ethel, I am simply practicing for the jury.—Once a Week

Jones—Skippley, the cashier is practicing a good deal of self denial lately. Brown—How's that? I should think that he could get on comfortably with what he took to Canada. Jones—Maybe, but he travels under an alias. Isn't that self denial? —Judge.

Philadelphian—Is it true that the Sorosis Society has gone or is going out of existence? New York girl—Yes. You see, everybody knew who the charter members were, and—and—well, they thought the society had lived long enough.—Philadelphia Record.

Jones—Matilda, where is that latch key I handed you this morning? Mrs. Jones—In the pocket of my dress hanging up over there. Jones (five minutes later, desperately)—And now, Matilda, will you please tell me where to find the pocket of your dress?—Judge.

Fond mother—Doctor, what seems to be the cause of Willie's trouble? Doctor—Some foreign substance in the stomach, I should say. Fond mother—O, yes, those dreadful Irish potatoes! I will tell our grocer to-morrow that he positively must bring us some American potatoes.—Burlington Free Press.

A good deal of criticism is being indulged in relative to the low backed dresses of the ladies in evening costume. The ladies, however, exhibit their backs in self defense. They wish to show that they are mortal creatures and that they are without wings. They know that although men are fond of calling them angels their only chance of securing a husband is to prove that they are no such thing.—Boston Transcript.

Citizen—Mr Greatman, I am surprised to find that you are not in the cabinet. All the papers said you would be. Mr Greatman—My dear sir, I had no desire to enter the cabinet, no desire at all. DISGUSTING SKIN DISEASES

What spectacle is more disgusting than that of a man or woman with a skin disease which shows itself in pimples or blotches on hands, arms, face and neck? It is simply impure blood. See what BRANDRETH'S PILLS did for a chronic case.

George Chapman, Pinconing, Mich., says.

For four years I was in the Mounted Infantry in the U S. Army, residing during that time principally in Texas. Almost all of that time I had a chronic skin disease characterized by an eruption over the entire surface of my legs and thighs, arms and chest. The doctors termed it eczema. I had given up all hopes of ever being cured when BRANDRETH'S PILLS were recommended to me. I concluded to try them, and did so and I have thanked God daily since then that I did so. I think I used them altogether for about three months and by that time was completely cured and have never had any trouble since. My skin is as clear as any one's.

Transplanted New England.

Boston Herald.

"A Congregational club and a Congregational college away out on Puget sound!" exclaims the Boston Congregationalist, as if it was a matter for amazement. Probably the writer of this sentence had an imperfect idea of what that part of the now state of Washington that borders on Puget sound is. There is more New England in it in ratio to the population than there is now in New England itself, as far as general intelligence and liberality of views are New England traits.

TWO ACCUSED FORGERS IN COURT.

Examination of H A Thompson and George Wakeford—The Former Held to Appear in $500 Bonds.

H A Thompson and George Wakeford, the two young men arrested several days ago for having very questionable relations with small bits of paper, known as forged bank checks, were yesterday in the police court to answer to their misdoings. Thompson was charged with passing a check for $35, purporting to bear the signature of Foster & Robertson. The check was given to Andrew Curley, a saloon keeper, for a loan of $2 50. When arrested Thompson had another for $24 90 with the name of H W Whitfield affixed, in his possession. Wakeford was arrested for being the author of these forgeries.

The two defendants were accorded separate examinations, the case against Thompson being taken up first.

Andrew Curley, the saloon keeper, testified that Thompson came into his saloon Tuesday afternoon and borrowed $2 50, leaving as security the check for $35. He did not want the check cashed and stated that he would redeem it the next day. "I suspected that it was a forgery," continued Mr Curley, "and took it to the bank. They there pronounced it a forgery, and notified Officer Barry, who subsequently made the arrest."

Officer Barry testified regarding the circumstances of making the arrest, and the conversation had between himself and the defendant in the presence of others in the city jail. The defendant had told him that he (the defendant) knew the checks to be forgeries, and that the one for $35 had been made out by Wakeford, in the First National bank, in his presence.

Mr Robertson, a member of the firm, whose signature was affixed to the $35 check, examined it and pronounced it a forgery.

The defendant (Thompson) admitted the correctness of the testimony of the other witnesses, but supplemented it by other testimony that threw a different light either on the case or on his own veracity. "I knew the check was a forgery," he said, "and that is why I did not want to have it cashed at the bank." Being asked where he got the check, he replied that he found both on Front street. As this was a direct contradiction of statements made by him in the police captain's office in the presence of Wakeford, the prosecuting attorney and Officer Barry, he was obliged to give an explanation of this inconsistency. When confronted with the question whether at that conversation he did not say that Wakeford wrote the checks he replied "Yes I did say so then but I was not under oath and I did not want to get into trouble alone."

The court decided this case by holding Thompson to appear before the grand jury, under bonds in the sum of $500.

The testimony in Wakeford's case with the exception of his own, was substantially the same as that in the case of Thompson.

Thompson told of his acquaintance with the defendant, and again denied that Wakeford made out the checks. Thomas Kelly identified the defendant as one of his roomers on B and Fourth streets. W G Alexander, a saloon keeper on Second and B, had seen the defendant frequently in his saloon in the company of Thompson. Mr Wiley told of being engaged in a game of cards with the defendant on the night of the arrest, and Officers Morgan and Griffin testified regarding a mysterious conversation, overheard by them, between the defendant and Thompson in the police court. Wakeford denied being the author of the forged checks. Owing to the lateness of the hour, the hearing of argument of counsel was continued until this afternoon.

Both were indicted by the grand jury at a late hour yesterday afternoon, that body having had their cases under investigation even before the hearing in the police court.

FOUR MORE MADE HAPPY.

A Card. For three years I have been a sufferer from various ailments, and for the past ten years I have been a sufferer from chronic rheumatism and nervous debility. In this condition I came to Drs Darrin and after eight months' treatment I am happy to say I have been restored to health again, and I cheerfully recommend them to the public.

Sore Eyes Cured.

EUGENE CITY Or Feb. 23, 1889

Mr Editor. My little girl 5 years old has been for the past eight or nine months afflicted with granulated conjunctivitis, complicated with ulcers on the eye ball. I had her treated by some of the most prominent physicians in Chicago, where I resided before coming here, but without success. The child was getting worse every day. Hearing of Drs Darrin, I consulted them in regard to her case, and they said they could cure her. I took their treatment for her and now, after three weeks, she is pronounced practically cured. Refer to me at Springfield, Oregon.

Cross Eyes Straightened.

SALEM Or, January, 1889

To the Public. It affords me pleasure to state that Drs. Darrin cured my little girl, 11 years old, of a very bad cast or cross of the right eye. The eye was straightened as good as ever in two operations. The eye had been in the crossed condition for more than seven years. This is not intended for an advertisement, but as an expression of gratitude due to Drs. Darrin for their careful and proficient work.

J B. TICHENOR.

Hearing Restored.

Editor—Dear Sir. I have been troubled with deafness for over fifteen years. I applied to the Drs Darrin, and after a few treatments by their wonderful electro-magnetic method of treatment, my hearing was entirely restored, and now I can hear my watch tick for the first time in many years. I can be referred to and seen in regard to my case at any time at Howell Prairie, or address me at Macleay, Oregon.

The Oregonian.

PORTLAND, WEDNESDAY, MARCH 13.

THE MONROE DOCTRINE.

An able and intelligent correspondent, whose interesting letter we publish in another column, takes issue with THE OREGONIAN'S recent declaration that the Edmunds Panama resolution, "while sound and timely doctrine, is not the Monroe doctrine, but a new doctrine that is justified by the pressure of new ideas and new emergencies." The only point of difference between THE OREGONIAN and its correspondent is as to the correctness of its statement that the original Monroe doctrine, by the action of our government, has been marked dead from 1835 to 1881, when Blaine, with characteristic impudence, attempted to write "Resurgam" on its tomb, in face of the text of the Clayton-Bulwer treaty of 1850 and of the whole history of our governmental action for the last fifty years, as set forth with fullness of detail in THE OREGONIAN of the 11th inst., which our correspondent had not seen. This article of the 11th contains in its citations from the Clayton-Bulwer treaty ample historical proof that the Monroe doctrine has been officially and diplomatically dead for fifty years, and that the Clayton-Bulwer treaty was the international inscription on its tombstone.

Let us briefly recite its history. "The Holy Alliance" formed by Austria, Russia, France and Prussia after the fall of Napoleon was a league for the support of royal despotic dynasties. By it Austria crushed Naples and Piedmont and France by its obligations sent an army under the Duke de Angouleme into Spain in 1823, and in the campaign of Trocadero crushed the Spanish patriots. The Spanish-American colonies had won their independence, and the same had been acknowledged by England and the United States. The holy alliance was strongly suspected of a design to re-establish the sovereignty of Spain in her North and South American colonies. George Canning, then prime minister of England, proposed to combine with the United States to resist the restoration of Spanish rule in Mexico and South America. No less a man than Charles Sumner, for many years the head of our committee on foreign relations, always affirmed that the British government took the initiative, and that Canning was the real author of the Monroe doctrine, which Canning eloquently eulogized in parliament as creditable to the courage and resolution of our government.

The truth seems to be that Canning was the first to suggest to our government combined resistance to the alleged design of the holy alliance; but Monroe, knowing that he could not directly, according to the traditional opposition of our government to entangling foreign alliances, help England to check Spain in America, took this indirect way of standing up with England and showing the hostility of America to despotic Europe. But the Monroe doctrine never received the sanction of congress. President John Quincy Adams, it is true, proposed a congress of the republics of the continent at Panama, but our congress disapproved it, and from that day until Garfield, prompted by Blaine, invited a congress of this sort in 1881, there was no attempt to revive this congress.

In the Clayton-Bulwer treaty of 1850 our government was oblivious of this Monroe doctrine, sanctioned its violation, and from 1835 to 1881, when Blaine began to caper like a flatulent colt in his new and strange pasture of the office of secretary of state, not a whisper of official congressional recognition did the so-called Monroe doctrine get at the hands of congress or the executive; and this for the very good reason that all our congressional action, even before the ratification of the Clayton-Bulwer treaty, had been in the direction of the same absolute neutrality of the Nicaragua and Panama canals that in the matter of the Suez canal has been consented to by England and ratified by the treaty signed by all the powers October 29, 1888. England in a commercial sense owns the majority of the shares of the Suez canal, but as a stockholder she only controls it in the mere imposition of tolls. It is no more her private military or peculiar naval and commercial waterway and dependency than is the Mediterranean sea. Only in the purely commercial sense of fixing its tolls does England control the canal, of which she owns the vast majority of stock; but as a purely military, naval or commercial waterway she no more controls the Suez canal than she does the broad Atlantic. She is pledged to treat it as neutral water, where all the powers in peace or war, have equal rights and freedom of transit.

No man who will carefully read the Clayton-Bulwer treaty of 1850, the messages of Polk and Taylor and the action of Congress from 1835 to 1881, will have any doubt that THE OREGONIAN was historically correct when it described the Monroe doctrine as dead. It was dying rapidly in 1848, but the Clayton-Bulwer treaty stabbed it to the heart.

General Sheridan in his "Memoirs" admits that when General Grant on May 17, 1865, a little more than thirty days after Appomattox, ordered him to Texas, he told him that while he (Grant) believed that the French and Austrians should be instantly expelled from Mexico, the secretary of state, Mr. Seward, was much opposed to the use of our troops along the border to this end. Seward ordered Sheridan to preserve strict neutrality, which of course he would not have done had he not believed that the so-called Monroe doctrine had died with the Clayton-Bulwer treaty.

The Edmunds doctrine is good doctrine in the sense that it could forbid any power of Europe controlling the Panama canal in a political or military sense; it would simply place the Panama or Nicaragua canal as completely beyond and above foreign interference, as absolutely neutral as is the Suez canal. The corporation that proposes to build the Nicaragua canal is American, but that no more makes the canal an American military and naval possession than the Suez corporation, being English, makes that canal a military and naval outpost and depot of England.

The general elections in England in 1886 gave Salisbury and the tory party a majority of 116. Since that date Gladstone has steadily gained. There have been sixty special elections since the appeal to the country in 1886. About a dozen of these were caused by the elevations to the peerage, and were consequently considered safe seats. Contests took place in thirty-two constituencies. The liberals have won nine seats and lost one. The percentage of the liberal majorities at the bye-elections to the total polls is 6.90. In 1886 the tories' percentage was only 2.56, there being over eighty divisions where their majority was less than 450. Lord Compton, a Gladstone man, has just been elected from Yorkshire by an increased majority.

There is a woman's boarding home in Minneapolis similar to that which was inaugurated in this city two years ago. It is operated under the auspices of the Women's Christian Association and is practically self-sustaining. One of its franchises is a home for aged women, an essential element of true charity in every city. Such an institution will become a necessity in this state at no distant date. A branch home, conducted by the managers of some similar institution for the benefit of poor and aged women—a pitiful class of human beings who live simply because tardy death neglects to call for them—should be the next charitable object to claim the attention of the kind-hearted women of this city, who remember in sympathy those of their sex whose lives have fallen in hard places. The words "aged and homeless" form a far more pitiful combination than "young and homeless," since there are possibilities before the latter class that are closed forever to the former. A homeless infant appeals successfully to sympathy. Homeless age arouses sympathy, but not of the kind that freely offers shelter and care. The commonwealth should provide cheerfully for those sensitive, shrinking, worn-out women, who have given without stint of their youth and health and labor for the benefit of others—universally generous through all of their active years of the fruits of their toil, and pitifully stranded at last, unable to help themselves. The most eloquent plea for help for the young men of the country sinks into a selfish and contemptible whisper by the side of a simple appeal for the necessities of aged and infirm women.

THE GLOOMY FLUSH OF SPRING.

Peach trees are in full bloom and their pink blossoms wear a delicate tint appropriate to early spring. Several times since 1850 peaches have bloomed in the Willamette valley in February and borne good crops. The beautiful wild currant is almost in bloom. Its rich scarlet clusters brighten the fence rows and forest wilds where they are found. The wild currant is a beautiful shrub and often grows in clusters as high as one's head. It is fine to see it glowing with the richness of a high-priced scarlet vesture. The fault with our wild currant is that it lasts but a short time and disappears, leaving only ragged edges and faded looks, that hardly compensate for its spring time brilliancy and glory. The willows are putting forth thin, modest buds, bursting and blooming, and coaxing the bee without intoxicating that busybody. The maples are preparing to hang out their pennons to become seed panicles. Various fruits are showing their half-shrouded and half-bursting buds, as if their eyelids were opening shyly, on the lookout for their worst enemy—Jack Frost. The sturdy oaks give symptoms of waking from their leafless dream of winter. The swales are in harmony with the bursting bloom of the life that comes there with sunny spring time. Nature asks no questions, but is keenly alive to all the interrogation points that surround her. Soon the plowed land will be alive to all animal wants, and shower and sunshine will create rich poems and supply music to set them to. Nature will arouse sentiment in the dullest soul and enthusiasm in the most commonplace natures. The study of man and his mistress, Nature, will go on as swift as months go and come, the world over.

The Walla Walla Journal accepts what some unreliable newspaper has said, that the legislature that recently adjourned was "more wasteful, corrupt and extravagant than any that has ever preceded it." Without dealing in comparisons, simply looking at the general character of the men who were members, it can be said that this legislature was really composed of good men who acted with honest intentions, made few mistakes, and were guilty of few measures that could be questioned. If public opinion has any verdict to render it must be favorable, as corruption made very little show and attempted no frauds. While not agreeing with all its conclusions there is a general sentiment of satisfaction.

Herr Stuebel, who has been sent by the German government to Samoa to succeed Herr Knappe as consul general, was consul general in Samoa from 1884 to 1886. The New York Sun says:

> It was this Dr. Stuebel that inaugurated the German policy of interference, aggression, and outrage. There had been peace in the country for three or four years, and the native authority seemed to be fully established, when this Dr. Stuebel began the present series of troubles. It was he that hoisted the German flag on Mulinuu point on January 23, 1885, and hauled down the Samoan flag at Apia just one year later.

The nomination of Albert G. Porter as minister to Italy is an excellent one. Porter is a man of fine talent, high culture and blameless personal character. He was governor of Indiana from 1881 to 1885, and is one of the strongest political thinkers and speakers of the Middle West.

The new administration has been in business at Washington more than a week and our boys from Oregon haven't been "fixed" yet. What's the matter? Was it for this that our friend Barin carried the state by 7407 majority in June, and set the example for the November deluge?

Some one has been mean enough to insinuate that Cleveland signed the omnibus bill because the creation of four republican states would materially lessen the chances of David B. Hill for the presidency.

The Springfield Republican felicitously describes Ireland as a land "where tenants are many, landlords few, jails frequent, and schools almost a curiosity."

PORTLAND AND VICINITY.

A COLONY FROM MICHIGAN.—Monday was a very busy day at the board of immigration rooms, but yesterday was one of the most marked in point of the number of visitors since the board's organization. Over 200 persons, representing probably four times that number, visited the exhibit, and registered. Representatives of a colony of twenty-five Michigan families who were looking for a suitable place to locate a sawmill and take up land, were sent to Tillamook. These people have come to Oregon, having spent a month looking over the Sound country, and have decided that this state suits them best. They intend to work on the co-operative plan, that is, they will purchase or settle on land upon which a sawmill will be erected. The men of the colony, who are all experienced lumbermen, will devote themselves to manufacturing lumber for the market, while the women and children will devote their attention to tilling the soil. All profits derived from the sawmill or land is to be divided equally among the members of the colony. Two visitors of the board yesterday talked seriously of establishing glass works in this city.

CHEAP HOMES.—$100 cash and balance in monthly installments of $10 will buy a lot in Feurer's addition to East Portland. This addition is located within the city limits of East Portland, midway between Stephens addition and the railroad machine and car shops, only fifteen minutes' walk from Jefferson street ferry and seven minutes from the present terminus of the street car on Fifth street, in East Portland, which will be extended and pass the entire tract soon. The new motor line will also pass the same within three blocks. There is, in fact, at present no equal opportunity for investment. The whole tract is level, with just sufficient slope for good drainage to a crystal clear brook which runs through the place. The best of water can be reached on every lot at a depth of twelve to eighteen feet. No stumps, no hills, no ravines, no swamps, no gravel. The soil is very rich and well adapted for the raising of fruit and garden produce. Lots in this favorably located addition will be sold at the low prices of $300 to $440, which, in connection with the easy terms, will bring them within reach of everybody. For the accommodation of laboring men, an agent will be on the grounds every Sunday from 9 A. M. till 6 P. M. For particulars, apply to German Immigration Association, 25 Stark street.

A LUCKY DREAM.—An attempt was made to burglarize the rooms of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Anthony, at the residence of Rev. L. Kelsey, corner of Fourth and Jefferson streets, at an early hour yesterday morning. Shortly after retiring Monday evening, Mrs. Anthony began dreaming of a burglar; finally the nature of her dream awakened her, and, hearing a noise in the hall and seeing the door open and some one stealthily steal into her room, she concluded the rascal was on hand according to programme. She quickly elbowed her husband into a realizing sense of the situation, whereupon he hastily sprang after Mr. Burglar, and without formality, being light of weight and fleet of foot, chased him out on the sidewalk and down Jefferson street. From a brief rear observation the scoundrel was believed to be a medium sized, well dressed man. He certainly was not well posted, else he would have known that the house of a minister or the room of a printer would be a most unprofitable place to visit. Let others of like ilk take warning and give the "cloth" and "craft" a wide berth.

WILL LOOK DECENT YET.—Still further improvements and repairs are in progress at the city jail. A short time ago the police captain's office was remodeled by changing the partition railings, and the entire interior was given a new coat of paint. As a result of these changes the room is neater and more attractive than ever it has been before. In fact it presents the appearance of a cozy salon with the exception that the oil paintings are conspicuous by their absence. Yesterday a number of men were engaged in the hallway waging war on the old, cracked and dried-up whitewash which for some time has been hanging in a "scaly" balance ready to fall off upon the least provocation. All the whitewash will be thoroughly scraped off, and then the walls of the large corridor, the floors and door frames, and all other woodwork about the cells will be given a new coat of paint.

VALUABLE ISLANDS.—Mr. William Sherlock is president, and Martin Winch vice-president, of the Swan Island Real Estate Association, which recently purchased Swan island. The property consists of 300 acres, capable of being considerably increased when the natural channel of the river shall be reopened. Then a bridge can be built across the present channel, and the island will be available for wharves, warehouses, etc. The company considered the island cheap at $90,000, and bought it to hold merely as a speculation. Ross island, just above the city, contains about the same area as Swan island, and the owner, Mr. John Kiernan, who bought it for $10,000, now asks $150,000 for it. If some convulsion of nature should create a few islands in the river, they would be worth gobbling up.

THIRTY-TWO OCCUPATIONS.—In the four engine companies, two hose companies and two hook and ladder companies, comprising the city fire department, there are 76 men on the muster roll. It may be of interest to some to know the occupations of these attaches of the fire department. Ten of these men are teamsters, 8 clerks, 6 engineers, 5 moulders, 4 drivers, 4 carpenters, 4 blacksmiths, 4 painters, 4 mill-hands, 3 solicitors, 3 electric light trimmers, 2 upholsterers, 2 stablemen, 1 saloonkeeper, 1 contractor, 1 coal oil dealer, 1 bricklayer, 1 grocer, 1 poultryman, 1 marble cutter, 1 butcher, 1 barkeeper, 1 boilermaker, 1 smelter, 1 tinsmith, 1 lineman, 1 florist, 1 surveyor, 1 hack driver, 1 brickmason, 1 journalist and 1 is a reporter.

BIG DEMAND FOR COTTAGES.—Cottages renting from $15 to $30 a month are scarce in Portland and readily find occupants. An advertisement announcing that a seven-roomed house in a desirable location on Alder street was for rent, published in THE OREGONIAN, brought eighteen callers in the course of the forenoon. A typographical error referred the seekers for a house to the wrong address and the lady of the house, getting tired of answering the incessant ringing of the doorbell spent the afternoon visiting and no returns have been received as to the number of callers while she was absent.

POSTOFFICE ROBBED.—Postmaster Roby yesterday received a dispatch from D. H. Gumm, postmaster at Castle Rock, W. T., informing him that the mail carrier between Castle Rock and Toutle was robbed yesterday by masked men. The dispatch was handed over to Postal Inspector Troutland, who will go down to Castle Rock and try to secure the arrest of the robbers. The mail between Castle Rock and Toutle is carried by a footman over a trail, and is hardly likely to contain anything worth running the risk of mail robbery to obtain.

GRAND CONCERT TO-NIGHT.—All lovers of good music will be interested in Mr. W. S. Werschkul's concert, to be given at the Y. M. C. A. hall to-night. The "Phantom Chorus" from the opera "La Sonnambula" and the "Italia Beloved," by Donizetti, are among the numbers on the programme. Mr. Werschkul will sing Dudley Buck's "Creole Lover." Among the other soloists are Mrs. D. Goodsell, Mrs. D. E. Mitchell, Mrs. Wetzell, Mrs. J. A. Child, Mrs. H. R. Duniway and Mr. C. W. Beers. There will be a chorus of fifty voices.

ENGLISH LUTHERAN CHURCH.—Rev. Mr. Passavant, of Pittsburg, Pa., will arrive in Portland the latter part of this month or early next month, to select sites for English Lutheran churches in this city, Tacoma and Seattle. Rev. G. H. Gerberding, who was detailed by the English Lutheran Home Mission Board of Philadelphia to come West and ascertain if it was advisable to build such churches here, returned to the Sound yesterday. He preached at the Swedish Lutheran church last night and will leave for home to-day.

IN A BAD CONDITION.—Alder street, between Second and Third, is in a very bad condition. The street needs dressing up and the Chinese dealers along the block also need straightening up a bit to prevent them from throwing rubbish, etc., in the street. Some of the property owners in the block wish to repair the street but others will not consent. Perhaps under the new provisions in the charter something can be done in the matter.

THE SAWMILL MEN REJOICE.—"The sawmill men join hands with the farmers in returning thanks for this wholesome rain," said a lumberman to a reporter yesterday. "The banks of all the streams tributary to the Columbia and Willamette rivers are piled up with logs, and the loggers have long been waiting for a freshet to float them to market. About ten inches of rain in the next two weeks would satisfy us."

A FERRY COMPANY INCORPORATED.—Articles incorporating the Sellwood Ferry Company were filed yesterday by M. G. Morgan, J. E. Caden, F. S. Lyon, F. C. Briggs, H. Clark, J. S. Horner, S. H. Benn, George Rich, David Panny, G. L. Read and J. A. McNeill. The object is to run a ferry from Sellwood to the opposite bank of the Willamette. Capital $5000.

ARTISTIC SOUVENIRS OF TRAVEL.—The magnificent opportunities offered to artists by the grandeur of Oregon scenery have been taken advantage of by Mrs. J. B. Bacchus. Beautiful views of Mt. Hood, Mt. Tacoma and other studies, are on exhibition in her studio, 165½ Third street. Tourists should not fail to call.

THE STRIKE ENDED.—The differences between the O. R. & N. Co. and the employes of its river division were all amicably arranged yesterday, to the great satisfaction of the public as well as all more intimately concerned. The men will resume their positions and there will be no grudges nor hard feelings held.

A BIG RUSH.—Since the smelting works are an assured fact, every one wants some of the lots in the Peninsular addition, as the erection of the works will quadruple the price of all lots in the tract. The price of lots is $62 each—$10 down and $1 a week. Office, 18 Morrison street.

DEATH OF AN IDAHO WOMAN.—Mrs. Randall, of Lewiston, Idaho, died at the Good Samaritan hospital yesterday. The remains are now at DeLin & [illegible]

REGISTRATION OF PHYSICIANS.—Since Governor Pennoyer filed Pope's medical bill to become a law without his signature many physicians having diplomas have registered their names in the county clerk's office. The governor has not yet announced the board of examiners.

ST. PATRICK'S BALL.—The Portland Hibernian Benevolent Society will give their twenty-ninth annual ball at Turn hall on Monday evening, March 18, 1889. The best music has been secured, and a good time is promised to all who may attend. Tickets $1.

THE COMMODIOUS STEAMER LURLINE.—Notwithstanding the fact that the strike has been declared off, the steamer Lurline will continue her usual trips to Astoria and way landings, leaving the foot of Taylor street at 8 P. M., every day except Sunday.

GRAND MILLINERY OPENING.—Mrs. G. H. Clark wishes to announce that the opening of imported hats, bonnets and millinery goods of every description will take place Thursday, Friday and Saturday, March 14, 15 and 16, at 110 Third street.

CLOSES TO-NIGHT.—The Musical Institute closes its second term with a grand concert at the Y. M. C. A. hall to-night. Come and hear Professor Werschkul sing. Admission, 50 cents.

POURING.—Last evening the rain came down in torrents. Rubbers and gossamers are in order. J. Selling & Co. offer special inducements in that line.

RECOVERED.—Mrs. J. T. Hayne has fully recovered from her late illness and will be pleased to receive her friends and scholars.

TASTEFULLY ARRANGED.—Floral designs at Burkhardt Bros., Twenty-second and G streets.

MUSICAL Institute concert to-night.

RESIGNATION OF MAJOR H. C. JOHNSON.

A Meeting Called Next Monday Evening to Elect a Successor.

PORTLAND, Or., March 11.
[Special Orders No. 6.]

I. The resignation of Major H. C. Johnson, First Infantry, is hereby accepted, to take effect from this date.

II. The company commissioned officers of the First Infantry will meet at the Regimental armory, Portland, Or., at 8 P. M. Monday, March 18, 1889, for the purpose of electing a major vice Johnson, resigned. Colonel C. F. Beebe, First Infantry, will preside. Officers not present may, in the discretion of the presiding officer, be represented by proxies.

By order of the commander-in-chief.
J. C. SHOFNER, Adjt.-Gen.

THE RIVER STILL VERY QUIET.

Although nothing of any importance is being done along the water front at present, owing to the recent strike, things will brighten up somewhat to-day. Up to 6 o'clock last evening Harbor Pilot Betts was besieged with deep water captains all anxious to have their vessels moved. Captain Betts agreed to move five vessels, viz: The City of Carlisle, to Mersey dock, where she will take in 200 tons of ballast; the Dunscore, which is in the stream, will go to Mersey dock; the Famenoth goes to the Portland flouring mills, where she will take in a cargo of flour; the City of Canton will shift from Montgomery to Columbia dock, and the Adele from the foot of D street to Victoria dock.

The Oklahama left Astoria for Portland at 2:15 o'clock yesterday afternoon, having the British bark Gartmore in tow. The Gartmore is commanded by Captain Ritchie, and brings a general cargo.

The schooner Marion arrived in at Astoria at 3:15 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

The steam schooner Augusta, of Yaquina, arrived and docked at the foot of A street yesterday.

The increased passenger rates between this city and Astoria do not seem to diminish travel. The Telephone and Lurline had all they wanted to attend to during the latter part of last week.

An Astoria paper predicts that the steamer Undine will be placed on the Astoria route, going down the Oregon side three times a week.

The five-masted schooner Louis arrived at Astoria Monday from San Francisco. She will load lumber at Knappton.

The bark Ruthwell leaves at daylight this morning in tow of the steamer Willamette Chief.

The M. E. Watson, which has completed her cargo, will leave down the river to-day if she can secure a towboat.

SOLE AGENCY MME. DEMOREST'S RELIABLE PATTERNS

Priestley's Silk Warp Henriettas

Are the most thoroughly reliable goods in the market. They are made of the finest silk and best Australian wool. You can easily distinguish them by their softness and beauty and regularity of finish. They are always the same in quality, weight, width and shade, thus enabling you to match any piece, and are dyed in two standards of black. None genuine unless rolled on the "Varnished Board," showing the grain of the wood, which is the Priestley Trade-Mark.

SPRING STYLES.

DRESS FABRICS.

In light weight Silk Dress Materials, Royal Imprimees, Printed Surahs and Broche Pongees will lead in popularity. The old time Summer Silk will be very little used the coming season. Moire Silks will be in fair demand for trimming purposes and in the light shades for evening wear.

In woolen dress goods combinations will be more sought after than ever; we shall show these in both stripe and plaid effects. The very latest novelty in plain goods for the spring months will be the Neapolitan Cloths. They are of about the same weight as the light weight broadcloths, a much closer weave, and possess a beautiful lustre; they come in all of the new shades and will unquestionably be prime favorites with the ladies. Henrietta Cloths, Cashmeres and Sicilians will have their usual following.

WASH FABRICS.

Satines are going to take first place again this season, there seems to be a perfect craze for these goods this spring, and both the foreign and domestic manufacturers have eclipsed all their previous work. These designs are very original and attractive and there is no limit to the number of styles and illustrations of artistic ideas that have been produced in this fabric, Chambrays, Feather Ginghams and Scotch Zephyrs will also come in for their quota of admirers. And, like the Satines, we shall show them in an endless variety.

After our GRAND SPRING OPENING, which we shall announce in a few days, we shall give a full and complete description of every line of Silk, Silk-and-Wool, All-Wool and Cotton Dress Fabrics which we have on our counters.

EMBROIDERED PATTERN DRESSES.

Every season there are a few choice novelties brought out in embroidered pattern dresses, and while it can scarcely be said that there are any radically new features in them, they are so artistic and beautiful that they command general attention whenever they are shown.

The special interest that attaches to the present season's assortment of these goods lies in the peculiarity of the manufacture. The embroidery is done in raised or embossed effect, which is produced by an under lining and some soft material through which the stitches are taken, but which is cut out all around the embroidered figure, leaving but the single thickness of material where the goods is plain. A very pretty style shows an elaborate Greek border done in parti-colored silks. There are also Roman borders in similar style. Very elaborate patterns are shown in connected sprays of fine leaves and vines. These are in some cases made with the embossed effect described, and in others are flat.

EMBROIDERIES.

25c PER YARD.

This week we give you your choice of 500 pieces of HAMBURG EMBROIDERIES, worth from 30c to 50c per yard, at the one uniform price of 25c per yard. QUANTITY LIMITED to 13½ yards to each purchaser.

THE WORLD'S FORESTS.

If the world was suddenly denuded of forests what would happen? If any region or country should be gradually stripped of its native forests, what would be the result? The first question is too broad to be answered, because no such result has been brought about, and we can only take the world as it stands and inquire whether any portion of its surface has been stripped of native forest trees, and if so, inquire the results. There are wide areas, in North America, especially, formerly known as the Great American Desert, that are now sterile, arid, barren and only capable of responding to cultivation where water can be relied on for irrigation. It is claimed that this arid region was once covered with forests and productive soil. Where it can be irrigated it produces remarkably well, and the presence of soil of great richness and productive capacity denotes that at some anterior date it was a fruitful region, well populated and with forests and streams, which are now designated by dry beds that can be traced over the desert wastes, and by forests that are identified by the presence of beds of good coal of a recent formation.

But the past of America is unknown, and only remains for surmise and speculation to work upon. There are other regions, now as desolate, that have a history worth tracing, by which we know that arid wastes extend over parts of Northern Africa and especially over Asia Minor, where are buried cities that once were earth's emporiums. The great nations of earth inhabited those lands and the cities of Jerusalem, Babylon and Nineveh were centers of earth's greatest rivers and most elaborate civilization. Those lands, in their glory, were productive. The rivers of olden Assyria, that Naaman of old, so proudly boasted of, scarce exist; the grand forests that crowned the hills and mountains have disappeared; the splendors of Solomon depended on the gold and silver and ophir wood, that do not now exist. The desert wastes of our day—the half buried ruins, the prowling wolf and hooting owl—these are what remain of the greatness that enslaved the children of Israel and ruled the then known world. We read with interest the scripture tales of ancient grandeur and glory, power and riches, and then of recent wanderings in Arabia and Petrea that give us the contrast.

The loss of their forests must have despoiled those countries, produced their present aridity and world-known desolation. The past is written in Jewish scriptures and not much is said in any other historic work. When the interesting story of rapine and conquest is told the world has nothing to be proud of, and with the example of a region destroyed by the absence of its sheltering forests we have a lesson that scarce needs repeating.

The columns of that well-known publication, Garden and Forest, treats this matter freely in recent issues, and makes a strong point in favor of the careful examination of American forests and adoption of a policy that can be effectively carried out. That publication favors the use of the army to accomplish the best results, and urges that statements be compiled from the work of officers and men to instruct the country. If we can carry out this policy and have the army educated for such work it will be a scheme of great importance, and by utilizing means already at hand, and thoroughly prepared, the people will find the army of the United States a means of great importance that will abundantly repay all its cost and do good beyond ordinary computation.

The same journal also proposes that a commission be appointed by the president to consider what forests are necessary to the agricultural interests. This commission, working in harmony with army officers, who are educated for all such uses, could do all that was necessary to preserve our national forests, and by that means maintain the forest growth necessary for future fertility and the interests of the producers of the country. This journal explains that but little additional expense will be required and a great desideratum will be accomplished. The example of great nations that existed where now only are found sterility and obscurity is sufficient to spur our government to active and scientific effort, and there can be no excuse. It is a well-known fact that contemporary nations are taking active steps, such as have been suggested in this connection.

It is probable that our country is provided—on this coast at least—with natural safeguards that render it less necessary to preserve the forests as they now exist, or replant where mountain fires have swept over them. The Japanese current strikes us on the northwest, the southern trade winds bring us rain, and we have cool summer winds that have hitherto been unfailing. Herein we have advantages not equaled elsewhere on this continent. Investigation should be continued until scientific research has made a full development of all that concerns the winds and rainfall, and until our people are fully educated to understand this important subject.

FISH CULTURE.

The experiment of fish culture in New York is a great success. There are five hatcheries in the state, two of which have only recently been constructed. They are at Caledonia, Cold Spring Harbor, Bloomingdale, Essex county, Millcreek, twenty miles north of Northtown, and Fulton Chain lakes. The fish at the Caledonia hatchery are furthest advanced, and are therefore sent out first. The shipments will continue for three months. The fish are put in tin pails with patent ventilating covers, and an expert accompanies them to see that they are not disturbed and that the proper temperature is maintained. A twenty-gallon can will hold 5000 young brook trout. Unless the commissioners are satisfied that the applicant understands planting the fish, the expert undertakes this also. The state makes no charge for the fish, and bears all other expenses, except the cost of transportation. No less than 750,000 young salmon from the Cold Spring Harbor hatchery will go to the Hudson river and its tributaries, including Lake Marcy at the Hudson's headwaters. These fish were received from the United States fish commissioners. Eight hundred thousand young salmon trout will go from the same hatchery to various lakes, among them 100,000 to the lake at Montauk Point, 100,000 to Lake Ronkonkoma, 100,000 to Lake Mahopac, and 200,000 to Lake George. Two million young frost fish will be put into the harbor at Cold Spring. Seventy-five thousand young land-locked salmon will also be distributed.

The president of the New York state fish commission said recently: "The greatest demand is for brook trout, and the largest number of these fry go to the Adirondacks. These mountains are no longer a wilderness, and the once well stocked streams have been fished out by unconscionable city sportsmen who were not ashamed to take fish the size of one's finger. Under the power of summary dismissal given us over the gamekeepers by the legislature of 1888, we hope to enforce the laws much more strictly, and thus give the fish a chance to grow."

Connecticut is trying to restore shad and salmon to her rivers. These fish were caught less than fifty years ago in all her streams. They were taken in the Connecticut river above Hartford and in the headwaters of the Housatonic. Salmon of the finest grain and flavor used to run up the shoal Quinebaug as far as Dayville, in Killingby, to spawn. A Norwich man, who has a collection of rare documents, possesses an indenture of the seventeenth century, binding a boy to a farmer on the banks of the Quinebaug, in which it is stipulated that the boy shall not be fed on salmon "more than twice a week." In scores of lesser rivers in Connecticut salmon were even more plentiful than shad.

The importance of fish culture at the East is set forth in an extended list of allotments of fish for the state of New York, distributed from its fish hatcheries, too long to be inserted here.

A SNEER AT THE PACIFIC COAST.

The Minneapolis Tribune, basing its remarks on a telegram from Los Angeles to a Chicago paper about the collapse of the boom in Southern California, after applying the telegram to the whole Pacific coast, says: "The admission of the two Dakotas ought, if nothing else, to check the senseless emigration from the East to the Pacific states and territories." This is the first intimation that the admission of the Dakotas into the Union was expected to bring about important climatic changes.

The distance between "the East" and the Dakotas, and the East and the Pacific coast, was something formidable when it had to be made over the trackless and arid wastes that intervene, with stolid and slow-moving oxen as the motive power, but in these times it amounts to so little, either in time or money, that the thrifty emigrant, seeking to better his condition, does not take it into account.

If, therefore, the adventurous home-seekers, who turned their faces and footsteps toward the setting sun in the time when the journey across the continent was but a succession of hardships, did not find sufficient inducement in the smiling wastes, scant vegetation and rigorous climate of the Dakotas to make them halt at that stage of their journey and begin the task of home-building which they had set for themselves, it is hardly fair to expect emigrants of to-day to do so.

The tasks of the husbandman are comparatively so much lighter, and the comfort of living is so much greater in a mild and equable climate than in a rigorous one, subject to sudden changes and menaced by cyclones and blizzards, that it is no wonder that even the thrift and energy that have planted the standard of civilization in Minnesota and Dakota are not able to place those regions in successful competition with the more forward regions of the North Pacific coast in the minds of the moving hosts of home-seekers.

It is in vain that the papers published in the cities through which these hosts pass on their westward journey charge that the Pacific coast region is but a land of "miners, gamblers and Chinamen." The judicious efforts of the State Immigration Board here have taught thousands of intelligent people better than this, and when the journal we have quoted from supplements its assertion with the declaration that "Minnesota, the Dakotas and Montana can each offer emigrants better homes, better schools and better incomes for the capital and labor invested than all the Pacific coast states combined," the animus of the statement is so clear that the emigrant who reads it smiles as he continues his journey to the Pacific coast, perfectly willing to take his chances with "gamblers and Chinamen" in an honest race for wealth and position.

It is a fact well known that thousands of well-to-do people leave the East every year to better their condition and make homes in the West. The breaking up of home ties and community associations is a serious thing to them, and this has not been decided upon without due deliberation. They are able to live where they are, and by the practice of the strict economy which has stood them in good stead in getting a little ahead in the world, they will still be able to add something each year to their accumulations. But they are not willing to continue, year after year, to give the best energies of their lives to fighting climate. They know that they can improve their situation in this respect, without losing any of the advantages that accrue to industry and economy everywhere. Boldly determined to do this, they set out for the Pacific coast, and the crowded immigrant cars that reach the chief cities in Oregon and Washington daily are sufficient evidence that neither the misrepresentation or jealousy of the journals of the Middle Northwest have been able to turn them aside from their purpose. There is every indication that the immigration to the North Pacific coast will this year exceed that of any former year, and men and families who come here with definite purpose and with something of a start in life—two requisites to immediate success anywhere—will find all the encouragement which fertile soil, mild climate and abundant natural resources in every line can offer to intelligent industry. This is the simple truth, which no amount of bluster about "Chinamen and unscrupulous speculators" can change.

A. REAL REFORM.

President Harrison deserves the thanks of Dakota, Washington and Montana territories for his policy of nominating citizens of those territories for federal offices. Hitherto the practice has been to fill the federal offices of consequence in the territories with some "tender foot talent" that had the ear of the administration, and thus the territorial offices were used to pay the importunate political debts of the president. President Harrison, it is announced, will appoint the eminent citizens of these territories to the leading federal offices. No argument is needed to defend this course. The wonder is that long ago the federal administration has not recognized the folly of sending men from the East to fill the federal offices of the Western territories. It touches the pride of the people to be treated as if their territory included no citizens competent to fill the federal offices, and, furthermore, the natural prejudice against an imported official, joined to his utter ignorance of the people, their wants and sympathies, paralyzes even an able and worthy appointee for the highest public usefulness. We are glad that President Harrison will nominate the citizens of the territories to the important federal offices of those territories, because his act marks him as a man who is in natural sympathy with the desire of the territories to be governed by men who are old citizens, men, who by the touch of the elbow are in full sympathy and understanding with the people. President Harrison has shown his good sense in this action and he deserves thanks.

Isiah V. Williamson, of Philadelphia, who died recently, leaving an estate of about $12,000,000, gave a million and a quarter to found a mechanical school. This is exclusive of a million for "charity." The bestowal of money, so that it will enable industry to help itself is charity in the true sense of the word. Much that goes under the name of charity, though dictated by genuine sympathy, operates for the individual in the future while relieving his present necessities. The wisest of all philanthropic efforts is that which gives the young and deserving a chance and then throws them upon their own resources.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla will remove that tired feeling and give new life and energy.

THE MONROE DOCTRINE.

An Inquiry Into Its Origin and Significance.

Does the Edmunds Resolution, Recently Adopted by the Senate, Go Beyond the Original Doctrine?

TACOMA, March 11, 1889.

THE OREGONIAN owes its well-earned popularity as the representative journal of the North Pacific states, its claim to public confidence, to its accurate and thoroughly considered editorials, especially upon matters of national history and politics. It usually speaks ex cathedra. One who assumes to question its theory or statement should be well armed in facts, well grounded in his positions. That usual accuracy of historic condition, perhaps that due appreciation of cause and effect and importance of bearing or result in moulding political history, it seems to the writer, have been lost sight of in the recent article entitled "Not the Monroe doctrine."

Having referred to the recommendation by the committee of the United States house of representatives that the Edmunds Panama resolution do pass, a resolution which declares:

> That the government of the United States will look with serious concern and disapproval upon any connection of any European government with the construction or control of either the Panama canal or the Nicaragua canal, and will regard such connection or control as injurious to the rights and interests of the United States, and as a menace to their welfare,

THE OREGONIAN thus comments:

> There is no reason why this resolution should not be approved as sound and timely in doctrine, but it is not, as McCreary defines it, the Monroe doctrine; it is a new doctrine, that is justified by the pressure of new issues and new emergencies. Neither house of congress nor the United States has ever adopted or sanctioned the Monroe doctrine, which the McCreary majority report pretends that the Edmunds resolution affirms. The history of the Monroe doctrine shows that it was a declaration for an emergency, which expired with the transient threat which invited its utterance. It was uttered by England, approved by America to protect and preserve our own government and liberties, and not those of any other government, except so far as protecting other republics protected ourselves. Its object was political, governmental, and not commercial; it was a transient buffer and bulwark against the threatened establishment of despotism in America. The danger passed, and with its passage the original Monroe doctrine is dead. England never agreed to it as a permanent policy, neither did the United States. It is absurd to rest the defense of the Edmunds resolution on the dead Monroe doctrine, contrived and asserted for a transient emergency. The Edmunds resolution declares a new doctrine, a just and timely one, but going far beyond that of Mr. Monroe.

It is quite true that "neither house of congress has ever adopted or sanctioned the Monroe doctrine," if by such adoption or sanction be meant: have never by express act directed the thorough maintenance of the principle to an ultimate determination. At various times, however, and in several noted instances that principle has been reasserted as regulating American continental policy, to which the government should adhere in its own behalf, if occasion required, and would be advocated as the policy when other American states or nations were affected, so far as consistent with the existing state of international relations to such American territory or state. Neither has it ever been disavowed or ignored; but upon the other hand it has steadily been growing into favor as the embodiment of a proper code of continental ethics, a principle to regulate the foreign policy for all the political divisions of the American continents in their relations with European nations. It is but neutrality. It has been uniformly reasserted whenever the attempt has been made by any European power to acquire control, political or otherwise, in any American state or territory.

Its true significance is lost sight of by referring to it as "the declaration for an emergency." No immediate danger threatened the United States of America. The "Holy Alliance" had not dared to interfere with our government or its republican form. The nation had recognized the independence of the South American republics. The Monroe administration protested against European powers converting those republics into monarchies against the will of the citizens of those republics. Hence the time was opportune to notify European powers, "Hands off from those governments;" "Americans shall rule America;" to assert that this nation will not stand passive while the encroachments by European nations upon the political rights of American provinces are endangered. It was a declaration of governmental policy—national ethics and American principle intended for all time. That principle can never expire. It is the sheet anchor of American neutrality. "Our country and sister American republics will not interfere in European governmental affairs; European powers shall alike limit their political control to European states." No "transient threat" provoked its utterance. Its motive best appears in that great state paper (the president's message December 2, 1823), in which the doctrine is announced and the reason therefor.

President Monroe had eloquently adverted to the condition of affairs upon the continent of Europe. He had said: "In the wars of the European powers, in the matters relating to themselves, we have never taken any part, nor does it comport with our policy so to do."

Having pointed out the difference between the political system of the allied powers and our continental policy, the president then announces what has since been called the Monroe doctrine:

> "We owe it, therefore, to candor and to the amicable relations existing between the United States and those powers to declare that we should consider any attempt on their part to extend their system to any portion of this hemisphere as dangerous to our peace and safety. With the existing colonies or dependencies of any European power we have not interfered, and shall not interfere. But with the governments who have declared their independence and maintained it, and whose independence we have, on great consideration and on just principles, acknowledged, we could not view any interposition for the purpose of oppressing them, or controlling in any other manner their destiny, by any European power in any other light than as the manifestation of an unfriendly disposition towards the United States."

The above extract contains the formulated language, historically recognized as the Monroe doctrine. In the same grand message of President Monroe the same American principle is quite as strongly stated, and surely quite as much entitled to be perpetuated as the Monroe doctrine. Says the president:

> "The occasion has been judged proper for asserting as a principle, in which the rights and interests of the United States are involved, that the American continents, by the free and independent condition which they have assumed and maintain, are henceforth not to be considered as objects for future colonization by any European power."

This announcement of the principle of non-interference by European nations in American continental control arose in the early discussion of the so-called Oregon question, the adjustment of the boundaries of territorial claim to the Northwest coast by the several contesting powers. It is analogous to, if not identical with, that principle which underlies the Monroe doctrine. Its first enunciation was by John Quincy Adams, when secretary of state in the Monroe administration. It should be a matter of patriotic pride to the citizens of the North Pacific states, that manly assertion of the United States claim to the North Pacific coast (to Oregon) by the Monroe administration prompted the utterance by Secretary Adams of that principle, kindred in every respect to the recognized "Monroe doctrine."

Let us recur to that great international controversy between the United States, Russia and Great Britain, as it was pending in 1823, at which time the illustrious John Quincy Adams originated as part of our national foreign policy the principle so early afterwards embalmed in history—the animus of the Monroe doctrine.

Russia laid claim to the northwest coast of America, from the Arctic sea southward to the 51st degree of north latitude. Great Britain did not then assert exclusive sovereignty to any portion of the northwest coast, but maintained her right to be equal to that of any other nation to the whole coast northward of Mexico, by virtue of the voyages of Drake, Cook, Vancouver, Mackenzie and others; she claimed right of joint occupancy with other nations, leaving in abeyance the right of exclusive dominion. The United States, based upon several rights, asserted claim to the coast and territory extending northward from the north line of California, then a Mexican province, to the south line of the Russian establishments. Secretary Adams, in a letter of instructions, July 22, 1823, to Richard Rush, minister to England, had exhaustively and ably championed the United States claim. He had especially referred to the accretion to the United States title by virtue of the Florida treaty, by which the United States had succeeded to the Spanish claim to the northwest coast. He then says:

> A necessary consequence of this state of things will be that the American continents, henceforth, will no longer be subject to colonization. Occupied by civilized, independent nations, they will be accessible to Europeans, and each other, on that footing alone; and the Pacific ocean, in every part of it, will remain open to the navigation of all nations, in like manner with the Atlantic. Incidental to the condition of national independence and sovereignty, the rights of interior navigation of their rivers will belong to each of the American nations within its own territories.
>
> "The application of colonial principles of exclusion therefore cannot be admitted by the United States, as lawful upon any part of the Northwest coast of America, or as belonging to any European nation. Their own settlements there, when organized as territorial governments will be adapted to the freedom of their own institutions, and as constituent parts of the Union, be subject to the principles and provisions of the constitution.

At the commencement of the succeeding session of congress, in that same annual message, in which the "Monroe doctrine," as it is technically defined and expressed, was promulgated, President Monroe referred largely to the condition of affairs on the Northwest coast of America. He concluded that portion of his message in this language:

> In the discussion to which this interest has given rise, and in the arrangements by which they may terminate, the occasion has been judged proper for asserting as a principle in which the rights and interests of the United States are involved that the American continents by the free and independent condition which they have assumed and maintain, are henceforth not to be considered as subjects for future colonization by any European power.

This was as formal an announcement by the executive of the nation of the principle that interference by European powers in American continental or colonial affairs would be resisted, as was that principle or doctrine of resistance to political interference to which the name of the president has since been attached. To the writer it seems but another form of expression of the same wholesome doctrine or principle. Strict neutrality—no entangling alliances with European governments in American continental affairs. It was the same doctrine in words of the president which had inspired the instruction to Minister Rush, as to the policy of the United States to resist the future colonization of American territory by European states—non-interference with; no European colonization on the Northwest coast of America. Since that date every attempt by European governments to acquire territorial foothold or political control of American states or provinces has been resisted, has found numerous and hearty adherents. Opposition to European interference in American continental affairs, has uniformly been claimed to be the application of the Monroe doctrine.

In the administration of John Quincy Adams, Henry Clay, of glorious memory, was the secretary of state. The creation of the Panama commission was an historic feature of that period. The president had appointed two eminent American statesmen commissioners to attend the conference of American powers. On the 8th of May, 1826, Henry Clay thus instructed those commissioners:

> From the northeastern limits of the United States in North America, to Cape Horn in South America on the Atlantic ocean, with one or two inconsiderable exceptions, and from the same cape to the fifty-first degree of latitude in North America on the Pacific ocean, without any exception, the whole coast and countries belong to sovereign resident powers. There is therefore no chasm within the prescribed limits in which a new European colony could now be introduced, without violating the territorial rights of some American state. An attempt to acquire such a colony, and by its establishment to acquire any sovereign rights for any European power, must be regarded as an inadmissible encroachment.

Such was the origin of, and early action of the executive department of the nation upon the so-called Monroe doctrine. Congress ratified it, in its recognition of the Panama mission, in its appropriation for the expenses of that mission. As time has passed and the United States have expanded, and European powers have gradually lost political control over American states and territories, the doctrine has continued to grow more vital and important. Although the United States government never has construed such doctrine as the pledge to protect any American state from European encroachment, yet its actual outspoken, active, aggressive assertion as the foreign policy of the United States has grown to be the wish of our people. To-day, who hesitates to say that the popular voice of the nation would demand resistance with the whole power of the Union of any attempt to establish a European dynasty in any country of the Western hemisphere? But whether or no the Edmunds resolution be the reiteration of the Monroe doctrine modified only in its application to another exigency, or whether it be an advance all will heartily adopt THE OREGONIAN's version of what is due to be observed in the present exigency—its apt statement in well chosen words of the real essence, the vital principle, which the writer believes invoked the promulgation of the Monroe doctrine; "The United States will not allow the control of the transisthmian canals to pass into the hands of any European power, whether a despotism or a republic."

Wherein the animus of that terse declaration of "hands off the Isthmus canals" differs from the inspiration of our gospel of Americanization of the western continents, proclaimed by Adams, Clay and Monroe, the writer fails to perceive. All will now cry "amen" to the idea or thought, whether called "Monroe doctrine" or any other name: "The American continents, by the free and independent condition which they have assumed and maintain, are henceforth not to be considered as subjects for colonization by any European power," or as expressed in the Monroe doctrine, properly so-called. "We owe it to candor to declare that we should consider any attempt of any European powers to extend their system to any portion of this hemisphere as dangerous to our peace and safety." "We could not view any interposition for the purpose of controlling the destiny of any American nation by any European power in any other light than as the manifestation of an unfriendly disposition towards the United States." Or, as Secretary Adams held: "A necessary consequence of this state of things will be that the American continents henceforth will be no longer subject to colonization. Occupied by independent, civilized nations, they will be accessible to Europeans, and each other, on that footing alone. And the Pacific ocean in every part of it will remain open to the navigation of all nations in like manner with the Atlantic. Incidental to the condition of national independence and sovereignty the rights of interior navigation will belong to each of the American nations within its own territories."

Or, as Henry Clay more aggressively asserted: "An attempt to acquire any sovereign rights for any European power must be regarded as an inadmissible encroachment."

The Edmunds resolution and the McCreary reports both reiterate the theory of non-European interference in American continental affairs, the principle which gave life to the Monroe doctrine. The recent action of congress establishes that the Monroe doctrine is not dead. President Harrison has indicated his adhesion to it in language which cannot be misunderstood. May congress, the executive and the whole nation go further, and so rehabilitate it that it will prove the gospel of Americanization of these continents, and accomplish the patriotic thought which inspired it, the fulfillment of destiny, the real Americanization of the whole Western or American hemisphere from pole to pole.

STATE BOARD OF AGRICULTURE.

Arrangements Made for a Most Successful State Fair This Year.

SALEM, March 11.—The State Board of Agriculture, which has just held its session in this city, took such preliminary steps as leave no doubt of a most successful state fair this year. From the records of Secretary Gregg the subjoined synopsis of some of the most important actions of the board has been taken:

One hundred stalls, 10x12 feet, are to be erected for speed horses along the fence behind the grand stand, to enable this class of attendants to be separate and aloof from the agricultural fair proper, and to be always convenient to the race track.

The executive committee was authorized to lease ground to firms dealing in agricultural implements for the erection of permanent exhibition buildings.

The board elected Messrs. Looney, DeLashmutt, Galloway and Wilson, with President Apperson chairman, as the executive committee.

Messrs. D. S. K. Buick, John G. Wright and M. Wilkins were elected finance committee.

The prices of admission were fixed the same as last year.

The selection of gate keepers, ticket venders and superintendents was referred to the executive committee.

M. Wilkins, of Lane county, was appointed a committee to make a collection of grains and grasses for a display at the fair.

John G. Wright, of Salem, was appointed a special committee to make a collection of fruits and vegetables for a display at the fair.

On motion of Mr. DeLashmutt, the board of agriculture extended an invitation to Mrs. William England, Mrs. Eugene Breyman, Mrs. Louis Kuhn, Mrs. A. T. Gilbert and Miss Sallie Bush to assist in artistically arranging the exhibit of fruits and vegetables at the next fair.

The board has adopted the following speed programme, which bespeaks one of the most interesting seasons of racing ever experienced on the state fair grounds.

TROTTING.

Race No. 1—3-minute class; purse, $500; for all horses bred and owned in Oregon or Washington territory.

Race No. 2—Breeders' stake; for 2-year-olds; entrance, $40, $250 added; for colts bred and owned in Oregon or Washington territory.

Race No. 3—2:40 class; purse, $500.

Race No. 4—For 3-year-olds, best two heats in three; entrance, $50, $300 added; for horses bred and owned in Oregon and Washington territory.

Race No. 5—2:30 class; purse, $800.

Race No. 6—2:25 class; purse, $600.

Race No. 7—2:30 class; purse, $500.

In all trotting races 5 per cent. of the purse must be paid by May 1, and 5 per cent. by July 1.

RUNNING RACES.

Race No. 8—Breeders' stakes for 2-year-olds; three-quarter dash; entrance, $50, $250 added.

Race No. 9—One and one-fourth mile; purse, $600.

Race No. 10—Oregon Derby for 3-year-olds; one and one-fourth mile; entrance, $50, $400 added.

Race No. 11—One and one-sixteenth mile; purse, $500.

Race No. 12—Three-quarter mile dash; purse, $400.

Race No. 13—Handicap; five-eighths of a mile dash; purse, $400.

Race No. 14—Handicap; one mile dash; purse, $300.

In all purse races entries close with payment of 10 per cent. of purse on September 10, except the handicaps; in these, nominations to be made on or before September 10, with half of entrance; weights to be announced at 12 M. the day before the race, and acceptance and second payment made on or before 6 P. M. the day before the race.

The dry cold weather of the winter months is productive of a great deal of croup among children. Mothers should be on the lookout for it, and be prepared to arrest it as soon as the first symptoms appear. True croup never comes without a warning; a day or two before the attack the child will become hoarse, and that symptom is soon followed by a peculiar, rough cough. If Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is given as soon as this hoarseness or cough appears, all danger and anxiety may be avoided; it has never failed. There is no danger in giving the remedy, for it contains no injurious substance. For sale by H. L. Blumauer & Co.

Different Kinds of Music.

Harper's Bazar.

Bobby (to young Featherly)—What kind of music were you playing on the piano last night, Mr. Featherly?

Featherly—What kind of music, Bobby? Why, I played selections from different operas. It's called operatic music.

Bobby—Then Clara was wrong. I heard her tell ma that you had been entertaining her with some alleged music.

ELLENSBURGH ECHOES.

The New Railroad to the Columbia River.

Development of the Big Bend and Okanogan Country—Stock Raising and Farming—Electric Lights and Indians.

ELLENSBURGH, March 12.—The committee appointed by the Board of Trade are going to collect the bonus of $100,000 to build the railroad from this point to Port Eaton on the Columbia river, a distance of thirty-five miles. Railroad Contractors Hunt, Corbin, Nelson Bennett and Smith & Burns, and perhaps others, will then be notified and asked to take the bonus and complete the road and operate it. The feeling is more in favor of giving the contract to G. W. Hunt, who has a record of quickly pushing things ahead to the finish. That the road will be a paying institution from the start the business men and farmers of the section are well assured, and that it will in the end open up the wealth of the Okanogan and Big Bend region nobody doubts. The first twenty miles of the road from Ellensburgh will more fully develop a splendid agricultural country, rich and productive—a region that cannot help pay handsomely. The heaviest grade is on the other side of what is known as "The Divide," a spur which runs out from the Cascade range proper to the Columbia river. The road will pass through Hobson's canyon in getting through the divide and thence to Port Eaton. Light draught steamers can run on the Columbia except two or three months in the year from Port Eaton all the way up to the Okanogan river. Last season one of the steamers of the Ellensburgh & Conconully Company ascended the Okanogan river for seven miles. But laying aside the question of steamboat navigation, the railroad itself will some day follow the Columbia river up the west side to the Wenatchie, which the Seattle, Lake Shore & Eastern road expects to make an objective point, and further on to the Lake Chelan and Salmon river country. Engineer Clark, lately of the Northern Pacific road, and Thomas L. Nixon, who is largely interested in Ellensburgh real estate, and who is a practical surveyor and engineer, made a survey of the route last summer and found the route a feasible one and the grades not too heavy.

The Ellensburgh people are in earnest in building this road. There is more public spirit among its people than is generally found in any town of its size in the new state. They do not wait to see whether the Northern Pacific Company will back up any enterprise they start. They know from the admirable location of the town that things must come their way. Ellensburgh cannot be sidetracked. It is the nearest large town to the Sound that can be surrounded by a splendid agricultural county, because it is the center of the first agricultural valley reached after coming down the east side of the Cascade mountains. As far as the eye can reach to the foothills all around Ellensburgh one can see fine ranches with substantial buildings and these ranches and the ranges up the mountain sides tell of the secret of Ellensburgh's wealth at present. It is live stock. B. E. Geddis, an old ranchman, who has over 800 acres and nearly all under cultivation, and who came into the valley nineteen years ago from Oregon, informed me that while farming was productive the selling of stock was his main business. He sends thousands of head of cattle every year to the Sound at the average price of about 6½ cents delivered there, and hundreds of head of horses all the way from $50 to $125 each. "It is surprising" said Ranchman Joseph H. Shelton, who has within six miles of the town, a farm of 500 acres, "the number of beeves that go to the Sound country. The business is increasing every day." Mr. Shelton who has done more to improve the breed of cattle than any other farmer in the Kittitas valley and who knows a good newspaper when he sees it, for he is a subscriber to the DAILY OREGONIAN, has imported direct from France some very fine Norman Percheron stallions, French coach horses and Hereford heifers. He is crossing the common stock with these importations and raising the grade of the native animal. Mr. Shelton said to your correspondent that his partner, Mr. Helm, had just taken 500 head of horses to a range on the east side of the Columbia river, ten miles below the Moses Coulee, which was an admirable horse range but not good for cattle or sheep. "Why?" I asked. "There is no water there except at the river, a horse will go out on the range and feed and then go twenty-five miles after water, but cattle will stay near the water and starve to death with good grass a mile away." Saturday next will be a proud day for the ranchmen in the vicinity of Ellensburgh who are interested in horse racing. Those who want to witness an interesting procession should not fail to see the parade of stallions which is announced for the 16th inst., in Ellensburgh. It is worth a ride on the cars through a growing agricultural section. "Everybody here is horse-proud," said an old resident. I saw many fine teams of fast horses as well as some sorry-looking cayuses, the latter owned principally by the Indians. The red men appear to know how to pack an animal down. A little cream-colored pony passed me a few moments ago, with a big buck Indian on his back, his squaw riding straddle-fashion behind him, a fat pappoose strapped to her back, and a big bundle of merchandise brought up the rear. The buck was a tall fellow, his legs reaching almost to the ground; the squaw was short and dumpy—the baby was asleep. It was a funny-looking outfit and all the colors of the rainbow and a big circus troupe combined were exhibited in the clothing of this nomadic family. They were going to Waterville.

The many first-class roller mills around Ellensburgh have made the place famous for good flour, nearly all of which goes to the Sound. C. Sander, however, who has a mill with a capacity of seventy-five barrels per day, says that nearly all of his product is sold right around Ellensburgh and to the people of the Big Bend country. "I have had as high as 250 Indians in my mill at one time," said Mr. Sandor, "bringing flour and packing it on their ponies while on their way home to the Big Bend and Okanogan country." Ellensburgh appears to be the natural outlet, as well as inlet, of that wonderfully rich section and the Indian as well as the white man is aware of it. It is pleasing and picturesque to see the bright red blanket Indians wandering around the streets, riding on their ponies or standing in groups at the street corners. They are an entirely different breed of the sons of the plains from the squatty Siwash of the Sound. Some of them come from as far as the British border, but the most of them are from the neighborhood and are principally Yakimas. The student of natural history, who endeavors to prove that the Indian is dying out, should see the squaws or klootchmen of these braves, or at least should look at what about seven out of every ten have strapped to their backs. The little pappoose, with his bright eyes and fat, dirty face—and that is about all you can see of them—is carried around in that style and appears to enjoy it when not sound asleep. No, the Eastern Washington Indians are not dying out. They are doing all they can to follow the injunction imprinted upon the great seal of the state of Maryland. The red men seen in Ellensburgh are not reservation Indians. Further down the river, below old Yakima, at the Simcoe reservation, they are more plentiful, under Uncle Sam's fostering care. It struck me that the Indians in and around the Kittitas valley were about as clean looking and certainly as industrious as some of the white street corner loungers and bar-room loafers I saw in the streets of Ellensburgh, but the place is well policed and no crime but opium smuggling appears to be rampant. The exposure by THE OREGONIAN of the operations of Charles Mueller in that line of business has had the effect of driving him out of the town. His family took the cars for Seattle, their old home, on Sunday night, where Mueller will probably go into the same business at the old stand. "The next batch of opium to pass through Tacoma," said one of the city officials, "will probably come from Yakima." "Why?" I asked. "Because I saw a Chinaman ship a suspicious bundle in a blanket to that point yesterday." "Why didn't you investigate it?" I enquired. "We do not get anything for that kind of work, the custom house officers get all the boodle and United States Commissioner Davidson says that the only person to whom he can issue a search warrant for supposed contraband goods shipped to evade the duty are United States revenue officers." One of the county officials informed me that there is a regular rendezvous up in the Okanogan country for the opium smugglers, who bring the stuff over the border on pack animals and from thence they make their way to the towns in the interior of Washington and Oregon.

The new city council of Ellensburgh is laying down twelve feet sidewalks, grading the streets, putting in water pipes and extending the electric light system. The latter is a better system than prevails in Tacoma. The incandescents are the Edison lights. Each lamp can be turned on or off at will, and all the hotels are furnished with them. Here is a town that never had gas works and probably never will. It jumped from the "penny dip" and the smoky coal oil lamp to the latest and best illuminator. The water supply of the city is primitive and peculiar. A reservoir on Capital Hill in the city limits is fed by springs, and the race which feeds the reservoir is tapped before it gets there to furnish water for domestic purposes. Should a fire occur the full force in the reservoir can be turned into the pipes. The gravity head is over 100 feet in altitude and the force sufficient to throw a stream nearly ninety feet high.

Colonel A. N. Hamilton, editor of the Ellensburgh Capital, is still enthusiastic in the belief that Ellensburgh should be made the capital of the new state, because it is so near the exact geographical center of Washington. He came here nearly two years ago to boom that idea into the heads of the people and has ably hammered at the anvil of public opinion to that end. B. E. Craig the owner of Capital Hill, who is putting up a fine octagonal shaped brick dwelling house on the hill says it is intended for the Governor's mansion. A splendid new hotel is to be built before the 1st of July, by Elliott & Moffitt, which will give the town four good hostelries—one of them, the Ashler, built by E. P. Cadwell—a three story brick is without doubt the finest hotel in the new state east of the Cascades. It has just been opened by Jesse E. Belyea, an experienced hotel man, and is first-class in all its appointments. Mr. Cadwell is also proprietor of the excellent Johnson house. If Ellensburgh is selected as the capital it will have all the accessories to house and feed the statesmen, and it would not take long to build a capitol. The people of the new state will probably be allowed to settle the question of a location for a capital by ballot and it is the general opinion on this side of the divide that Tacoma and Ellensburg will be the contestants. Either of the two will be good locations.

Boy one year and a half old. Face and body in a terrible condition being covered with sores. Sulphur Springs fail. Cured by Cuticura Remedies.

I have used your CUTICURA REMEDIES in two cases where it proved to be successful. The first was in the case of a boy a year and a half old. His face and body were in a terrible condition, the former being completely covered with sores. I took him to the Massena Sulpher Springs, but he did not improve any. I was then advised to try the CUTICURA REMEDIES, which I did. He took one and one half bottles of CUTICURA RESOLVENT, when his skin was as smooth as could be, and is to-day. I used the CUTICURA on his sores and the CUTICURA SOAP in washing him. He is now five years of age, and all right. The other case was a disease of the scalp, which was cured by washing with the CUTICURA SOAP and rubbing in the CUTICURA, one bottle of CUTICURA RESOLVENT being used. They have proved successful in every case where I have advised the use of them. It is surprising how rapidly a child will improve under their treatment. I recommend them for any disease of the skin as being the best in the world. This is my experience, and I am ready to stand by my statement. JOHN R. BERO,

American House, Hogansburgh, N. Y.

We have used your CUTICURA REMEDIES, and find them worthy the claim you make for them. In fact, they cannot be too highly recommended. Our little girl had the eczema, and suffered intensely for one winter, and, although under the care of a skilled physician, he could afford her no relief but by the use of your CUTICURA REMEDIES she was speedily cured. We will not be without your CUTICURA REMEDIES.

R. A. MANLEY, Milo, Iowa.

I have used the CUTICURA REMEDIES successfully for my baby, who was afflicted with eczema, and had such intense itching that he got no rest day or night. The itching is gone, and my baby is cured, and is now a healthy, rosy-cheeked boy.

MARY KELLERMANN, Beloit, Kan.

Boy nine years old. Bad humors all his life. Small, red blotches, with dry white scab, from head to feet. Two physicians fail. Cured by Cuticura.

My boy, aged nine years, has been troubled all his life with a very bad humor, which appeared all over his body in small red blotches, with a dry white scab on them. Last year he was worse than ever, being covered with scabs from the top of his head to his feet, and continually growing worse, although he has been treated by two physicians. As a last resort, I determined to try the CUTICURA REMEDIES, and am happy to say they did all that I could wish. Using them according to directions, the humor rapidly disappeared, leaving the skin fair and smooth, and performing a thorough cure. The CUTICURA REMEDIES are all you claim for them. They are worth their weight in gold to any one troubled as my boy was.

GEORGE F. LEAVITT,

North Andover, Mass.

I can praise the CUTICURA REMEDIES highly, for they have cured my baby of a very bad case of eczema, and my boy of sore eyes and breaking out on his face. They are both well, and have better skin than ever. I think it is a wonderful cure, and have recommended the CUTICURA REMEDIES to a great many.

MRS. BECKETT,

359 W. 29th St., New York.

The CUTICURA, CUTICURA RESOLVENT and CUTICURA SOAP have brought about a marvelous cure in the case of a skin disease on my little son eight years old. I have tried almost all remedies and also the most eminent doctors, all alike failing, except the wonderful CUTICURA REMEDIES.

ED. N. BROWN, 720 N. 16th St., Omaha, Neb.

The CUTICURA REMEDIES are in great demand. The CUTICURA RESOLVENT sells better than any other blood purifier. The CUTICURA SOAP is praised by my customers, especially mothers, who say it is the best for babies, preventing and curing scald head and similar diseases.

GEORGE HOBBS, P. M., Collins, Tenn.

Cuticura Remedies

For cleansing, purifying and beautifying the skin and scalp and restoring the hair of children and infants and destroying the germs of scrofula, and all hereditary humors, the CUTICURA REMEDIES are simply infallible.

CUTICURA, the great skin cure, instantly allays the most agonizing itching, burning and inflammation, clears the skin and scalp of crusts and scales, and restores the hair. CUTICURA SOAP, the greatest of skin beautifiers is indispensable in treating skin diseases and baby humors. It produces the whitest, clearest skin and softest hands, free from pimple, spot or blemish. CUTICURA RESOLVENT, the new blood purifier, cleanses the blood of all impurities and poisonous elements, and thus removes the CAUSE. Hence the CUTICURA REMEDIES cure every species of agonizing, humiliating, itching, burning, scaly, and pimply diseases of the skin, scalp and blood, with loss of hair, and all humors, blotches, eruptions, sores, scales, and crusts, when physicians and all other remedies fail.

Sold everywhere. Price, CUTICURA, 50c; SOAP, 25c; RESOLVENT, $1. Prepared by the POTTER DRUG AND CHEMICAL CORPORATION, Boston.

BROWNSVILLE NOTES.

BROWNSVILLE, March 11.

Dan Greathouse left for a six weeks' visit to see relatives in Illinois.

Born—In this city, last week, to the wife of Minty Jackson, a son.

There is every indication that a fruit cannery will be started here this season.

Mr. M. L. Garoutte has purchased the interest of Mr. Joseph Sawyer in the meat market here.

On the 18th inst. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Kay start for the East, if Mrs. Kay's health will permit.

Messrs. Cable & Stanard, our new business firm, depart for Portland this morning on business.

Mr. F. F. Croft has just arrived home from a three weeks' absence in Portland and Oregon City.

Mr. R. N. Thompson departed for San Francisco on the 9th inst., to bring home his wife and infant son.

O. P. Coshow, jr., has sold his residence here to Rev. Mr. LeRoy, and Mr. L. is fixing the place up in good shape.

To-day Messrs. Wm. B. Smith, E. W. Orebaugh, W. T. Cochran and G. A. Dyson go to Albany as jurymen to attend circuit court.

At a school meeting held here on the 4th inst. Mr. A. W. Stewart was re-elected clerk and Mr. R. N. Thompson elected director for three years.

Yesterday Messrs. Wilson and Barger took N. J. Cochran down to Albany for examination in regard to his sanity, and he may be sent to Salem.

Mr. C. H. Elswick, of this place, was married near Crawfordsville to Miss Eva Chance, on the 3d inst., and have taken up their residence in this city.

The weather still continues dry, and as there is but little snow in the mountains the outlook for our sawmills to get down logs is anything but encouraging this spring.

Benton Leader.

The Albany Democrat thinks we are in the wrong pew in defending the extravagance of the late legislature. We don't defend its extravagance. But we do not forget that about forty thousand of it comes into Benton county and we are sure that every dollar of it is money judiciously appropriated. We take it for granted that a great deal of the rest appropriated is just as judiciously appropriated. If there are any items that can be shown to be extravagant we will join the Democrat in kicking. But we have spent a good part of our time growling at other people's extravagance in getting money out of the state treasury. It don't do any good. They get the money all the same and our people get left. So we go in for the flag and an appropriation. Better follow our example. Don't balk. Go on with the procession.

Their Contributions.

Albany (N. Y.) Journal.

The contributions of thirteen prominent democrats to their party's corruption fund in the campaign were as follows: President Cleveland, $10,000; Secretary Whitney, $20,000; Secretary Vilas, $10,000; Postmaster-General Dickinson, $10,000; Secretary Fairchild, $10,000; Secretary Endicott, $10,000; Secretary Bayard, $10,000; W. L. Scott, $75,000; Cal Brice, $50,000; W. H. Havemeyer, $50,000; A. P. Gorman, $20,000; W. H. Barnum, $40,000; Herman Oelrichs, $50,000. And yet the Albany Argus harps on John Wanamaker's contribution to the republican campaign expenses.

WHEAT—The market is very dull and quiet Foreign cables report a similar state of affairs abroad and no business of any kind transacted The local business, too, is dull. Mill men buy only when they have to and in small lots We quote Eastern Oregon $1 47½@1 30, valley $1 35@1 37½. We quote the above as nominal prices only

FREIGHTS—Are dull, but susceptible of some little movement The Fiery Cross was reported as chartered to-day at 37s 6d for Liverpool, Havre or Antwerp The Adele is also reported as taken for the West coast, but it was impossible to verify the latter rumor

EGGS—The market continues to show great strength, owing to the light receipts We quote the market firm at 18@20c

BY TRIFLING WITH A COLD, many a one allows himself to drift into a condition favorable to the development of some latent disease, which thereafter takes full possession of the system. Better cure your Cold at once with Dr Jayne's Expectorant, a good remedy for Throat Ails and Lung Affections.

HER MARRIAGE A FAILURE.

A Wealthy Woman Permits Her Husband to Squander a Fortune.

CHICAGO, March 12.—A special from Norwalk, Conn., says Mrs Thomas B. Gunning, daughter of Leland Stanford, of California, and one of the most estimable ladies here, has been troubled beyond measure by the conduct of her husband, who, if current reports be true, has not only squandered her money, but divided his attention with other women She has applied to the supreme court for relief. Meantime, her husband made use of her signature upon checks for large amounts, and with the funds thus obtained extended his outside operations going to Canada to be in the fashion, Having squandered all he returned like the prodigal son, to beg the abused wife's pardon. The visit was a flying one, but long enough for him to learn that Mrs. Gunning would agree to no reconciliation. Then Gunning went to South America, where he now is It is said he got away with over half a million of his wife's money, before she began to realize the enormity of his operations Then she put her foot squarely down In court last Friday, she easily made it apparent that her case was just and an absolute divorce was granted

MISSIONARIES RELEASED.

Germans Are Compelled to Pay $3000 Ransom for Them.

ZANZIBAR March 12.—The missionaries recently captured by the insurgents have been released upon the payment of $3000. In addition to the ransom money, the Germans surrendered twenty-two slaves who had fallen into their hands. The followers of Bushiri were taken into the interior They seem inclined to enter into negotiations with the Germans

A GLADSTONIAN VICTORY.

Lord Compton Elected to the House of Commons from Yorkshire.

LONDON, March 12.—The election held in Barnsley, in Yorkshire, to fill the vacancy in the house of commons caused by the retirement of Courtney Stanhope Kenny, liberal, resulted in the return of Lord Compton, Gladstonian, who received 6332 votes, against 3781 for his opponent, Bruce Wentworth, conservative. At the last election Kenny received 5425 votes and Wentworth 2917.

A BRUTAL NEGRO.

He Assaults a Woman, and Will Probably Be Lynched.

ONANCOCK, Va., March 12.—Last night McGruger Fletcher, a powerful negro, broke into the house of Mrs Obadiah McCready, in Messongo Neck, in the absence of her husband, and criminally assaulted her four times before leaving. He has been arrested, and will probably be lynched.

The Weavers' Strike.

FALL RIVER, March 12.—The strike situation is not greatly changed, but appears in favor of the weavers. Only 1000 out of 4000 looms are running. Good order prevails.

Want the Charleston.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—A telegram sent to San Francisco by the navy department asked at what time the cruiser Charleston would be ready for trial.

Germany's Representative.

BERLIN, March 12.—Count Von Berchem, secretary of state, will represent Germany at the coming conference here concerning Samoa

Cautious Dealers.

NEW YORK, March 12.—In spite of the more favorable cables on copper the dealers here still hold off. There are no transactions.

Admiral Davis Dead.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—Admiral John Lee Davis, United States navy, retired, died this morning in this city.

Alcatus Wins.

LONDON, March 12.—At the Sheydon March meeting, the grand international hurdle race was won by Alcatus

It Was Just In Time.

G C Bartholomew, Kalkaska Mich, says "I located in this place five years ago, having formerly resided in Troy, N Y I have been a great sufferer from what the physicians of Troy called Bright's disease I used Dr David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, of Rondout N Y. All the terrible symptoms of the disease are gone I have no trace of any liver or bladder Who would begrudge the cost of this medicine (one dollar a bottle) for such a blessing or refuse this simple though sincere token of gratitude for being perfectly cured" I owe everything to Dr Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, and hope this will induce others to use the medicine who suffer from any kidney, liver or blood disorders."

DISORDER OF THE KIDNEYS,

DR. KENNEDY'S FAVORITE REMEDY,

S.S.S.

No Mercury, No Potash,

Or any other Mineral Poison.

It is Nature's Remedy, made exclusively from Roots and Herbs.

It is perfectly Harmless.

It is the only remedy known to the world that has ever yet Cured contagious Blood Poison in all its stages.

It cures Mercurial Rheumatism, Cancer, Scrofula, and other blood diseases heretofore considered incurable. It cures any disease caused from impure blood. It is now prescribed by thousands of the best physicians in the United States, as a tonic. We append the statement of a few:

"I have used S. S. S. on patients convalescing from fever and from measles with the best results. J. N. CHENEY, M D.
Ellaville, Ga."

BREMEN, GA.—Willie White was afflicted with scrofula seven years. I prescribed S. S. S., and to-day he is a fat and robust boy.
C. W. PARKER, M. D.

RICHMOND, VA., Dec 15, '88.—I have taken three bottles of Swift's Specific for secondary blood poison It acts much better than potash or any other remedy I have ever used.
B. F. WINFIELD, M.D.,
Formerly of Sussex Co., Va.

DR. E. J. HALE, the well known druggist and physician, of Nashville, Howard County, Ark, writes "Having some knowledge as to what S. S. S. is composed of, I can safely recommend it as the remedy for all skin diseases, it matters not what the name may be."

We have a book giving a history of this wonderful remedy, and its cures, from all over the world, which will convince you that all we say is true, and which we will mail free on application. No family should be without it. We have another on Contagious Blood Poison, sent on same terms

Write us a history of your case, and our physician will advise with you by letter, in strictest confidence. We will not deceive you knowingly.

March April May

Are the months to purify the blood, for at no other season is the blood so susceptible to benefit from medicine The peculiar purifying and reviving qualities of Hood's Sarsaparilla are just what are needed to expel disease and fortify the system against the debilitating effects of mild weather Every year increases the popularity of Hood's Sarsaparilla, for it's just what people need at this season It is the ideal spring medicine

Last spring I seemed to be running down in health was weak and tired all the time I took Hood's Sarsaparilla and it did me a great deal of good My little daughter, ten years old, has suffered from scrofula and catarrh a great deal. Hood's Sarsaparilla did her more good than anything else—MRS LOUISA CORP Canastota N Y

Hood's Sarsaparilla is prepared from Sarsaparilla, Dandelion Mandrake Dock Pipsissewa, Juniper Berries and other vegetables remedies in such a peculiar manner as to derive the full medicinal value of each It will cure when in the power of medicine scrofula, salt rheum, sores, boils pimples all humors dyspepsia biliousness, sick headache, indigestion general debility, catarrh rheumatism, kidney and liver complaints It overcomes that extreme tired feeling caused by change of climate season or life.

Feeling languid and dizzy having no appetite and no ambition to work, I took Hood's Sarsaparilla, with the best results As a health invigorator and for general debility I think it superior to anything else"—A A. RIKER, Utica, N Y

A POLICE ALARM SYSTEM.

Chief Parrish Thinks Signal Boxes Are Needed to Facilitate Work.

The City Is Growing Rapidly, and It Is a Long Walk From Either End to the Jail—Several Plans Discussed.

Now that the city is expanding in all directions, and increasing in population each month, Chief of Police Parrish is endeavoring to crowd a quart of substance into a pint measure, and make the force under him cover the municipality efficiently. The chief circumstance that worries him, and causes him to count blue-coated noses with a doubtful expression of countenance, is the fact that the extreme northern and southern boundaries of the city are distant from two to three miles from the city jail, and that an arrest made at either extremity, takes the arresting officer off his beat for fully an hour and a half.

It is clear to all having any foresight that this deficiency will have to be made good in some way, and that before long. Some favor the building of branch jails at the north and south ends of the city, while others deem it best to establish a system of police signal boxes, similar to those in vogue in Chicago, New York, Minneapolis and other Eastern cities. When an officer makes an arrest he opens a box, turns in an alarm and holds his man until a wagon comes to convey the offender to jail.

A system of this kind would cost many thousand dollars, and a less expensive one is being discussed in police circles. This latter plan proposes the establishment of an alarm service like the one used by a local messenger company. It is thought that by using the poles of the fire alarm telegraph, erecting poles only where necessary, fifty small call boxes, encased in large iron boxes for protection, would furnish as good a system as the city will require for many years, would be put in at a moderate cost. Then a good wagon and two horses could be secured, and as the work would not be very hard, two drivers, each serving twelve hours a day, would be sufficient.

Chief of Police Parrish favors some such system. "Portland is growing so rapidly that we are kept moving to cover it," said he yesterday. "If we had an alarm system, the work of the police would be greatly facilitated, and I am sure the city would be afforded better protection. An officer who makes an arrest in the extreme northern end of the city at night is called off his beat from an hour to an hour and a half; in the day time he does not lose so much time, because he can readily hire an express wagon or convey his prisoner to jail on a street car. Now, if some sharp burglars wished to pursue their work without fear of police molestation, all they would have to do would be for one of them to get boisterously drunk, get arrested, and that is all that would be seen of the officer for an hour and a half."

THE WORK GOES BRAVELY ON.

How Operations on the Several New Buildings Are Progressing.

The number of building improvements under way in the business portion of the city is quite large for so early in the season.

The stone foundation for Fliedner & Holman's five-story brick block at the southeast corner of Washington and Fifth, is about completed.

The excavation for Henry Weinhard's three-story brick building at the northeast corner of Second and Oak streets is completed, and a permit for the stone work was granted yesterday.

The excavation for the foundation of Hon. H. W. Corbett's five-story brick block at the northeast corner of Third and Oak streets is about completed.

The wooden building has been removed from Mr. Rosenblatt's property at the southwest corner of Fourth and Stark, and the ground has been cleared of rubbish and the work of excavating for the foundation of the brick building to be erected there will be begun at once. Mr. Rosenblatt, not wishing to be delayed by scarcity of brick, has engaged a supply from Vancouver.

At the northeast corner of Fourth and Morrison the wooden building is all ready for removal to make room for the three-story brick building which L. Blumauer will forthwith erect there.

On Second near Ash the excavation for the foundation of a brick building to be erected by Dr. Glisan is being made.

The handsome four-story brick blocks, lately completed by Messrs. Blagen and Skidmore on North First street, are now being occupied.

The handsome three-story brick block, lately erected by Mayor DeLashmutt on First street, near Madison, will soon be ready for occupancy.

As for wooden buildings of all sizes from a $10,000 house down to a $1000 cottage there are dozens of them in progress in all parts of the city, and a permit was yesterday issued for three one and a half-story cottages, to be built at Sixteenth and G streets by Max Smith and Louis Sochtem. The lack of brick for foundations retards the construction of a number of dwellings, which are much needed.

MORE EASTERN ADVERTISING.

The Board of Immigration Meet in Special Session—Mr. G. C. Moran's Proposition.

The Oregon State Board of Immigration met in special session at their rooms, No. 10 Ash street, at 4 P. M. yesterday, for the purpose of considering a proposition to be made by Mr. George C. Moran, a representative of the Chicago Times. There were present at the meeting Directors C. H. Dodd, H. W. Corbett, F. K. Arnold, Joseph Waddell, Ellis G. Hughes, T. A. Wood and D. D. Oliphant.

A communication from T. G. Brownson, president of the McMinnville College, was read. Mr. Brownson intends making a trip East, and offered to distribute immigration literature if the board would furnish him transportation or pay a portion of his traveling expenses. On motion of Mr. Oliphant the offer was declined.

A communication from E. H. Maxwell, of the Oregon Development Company, regarding a private matter was next read.

A bill of the Lewis & Dryden Printing Company for $452 was ordered paid.

Mr. B. Thompson, representing the San Francisco Occident, addressed the board in regard to a special edition of the Occident shortly to be issued. The issue is to be on Portland, and all Mr. Thompson asked for was the use of the board's cuts descriptive of this city. As the publishers of the Occident asked no financial aid, Mr. Thompson's modest request was granted by a unanimous vote.

Mr. Moran, the Chicago Times representative, was next invited to address the board on the matter of advertising Oregon in his journal. Mr. Moran's proposition was different from those submitted by the other Eastern papers that have solicited advertising. His plan was to insert reading matter in the telegraphic columns of the Times, the reading matter to be in the form of special dispatches dated as having been sent from Portland on the day preceding the publication, the same as the other news dispatches. The reading public will read an advertisement of this kind not knowing but what it is a regular associated press dispatch, whereas if it came under the regular head of "special correspondence" it would not be given more than a passing glance. The price of the Times for this class of advertising is $1 per line. On motion of Mr. Hughes the board agreed to place three "dispatches" in the Times of 250 lines each, the insertions to be made one month apart.

There being no other business of importance on hand, the board adjourned subject to the call of the chair.

SHE WANTED A SUIT OF MOURNING.

The Queer Request of a Young Woman Made Delirious by Illness.

A dressmaker in the western part of the city is suffering from nervous prostration, caused by an extremely singular experience that she had Monday afternoon.

A medium-sized, prepossessing young woman, whose pallid face and sunken eyes were evidence of the severe illness she had just passed through, strolled in and began staring idly about the room. She wore neither hat nor wrap, and her hair hung loosely on her shoulders.

"I want to see some cloth for a mourning suit," she said when the proprietress of the establishment asked her what she wished.

"A mourning suit!" gasped the dressmaker, who was intimately acquainted with the caller. "Why, who has died?"

"Nobody, nobody," wildly protested the young woman. "I am going to die. Can't you see the hand of death on my face? I want to buy a suit of black in which to pass my last hours. Do you understand?"

The young woman was rapidly becoming more and more excited, and her eyes began to flare. The dressmaker, overcome with nervousness, sank exhausted into a chair. Just then relatives of the young woman, who had been missed from her room, came in and prevailed on her to return home. During a delirium she had wandered from her room and left the house without any one noticing her.

LOCAL NOTES.

Brilliant tulips are flaming in many cultivated yards.

Mr. Wilson Benefiel has received the appointment of sexton of Lone Fir cemetery.

The warm and gentle shower yesterday did a great deal of good in pushing forward vegetation.

Police Captain Cardwell has been off duty several days owing to a severe attack of rheumatism.

T. P. Ward, the Arizona man, whose disappearance from the Gilman house was noted yesterday has been found.

A great many gutters about the city should be looked after at an early day. The condition of some is filthy beyond degree.

The plot of Glenhaven park, an addition to East Portland, was filed by W. H. Bowman and wife and W. E. Brainard and wife.

The old wooden house which has stood for so many years at the corner of Fourth and Morrison street will soon be "on the wing."

Trimming trees and burning rubbish is claiming a good deal of attention just now. Cleaning out back yards and renovating cellars are also progressing lively.

One indication of the general activity of Portland may be seen in the fact of the streams of humanity pouring in all directions. Street cars, motor cars, and the suburban railway lines are crowded to overflowing. The several lines of little steamers, the bridges and ferries, are all well patronized.

A number of peach trees about the city are in full bloom. Thousands of buds on thrifty-looking plum and cherry trees are swelling nearly to the bursting period.

A gentleman who returned yesterday from a month's trip through the Inland Empire says that in many sections rain is needed very much, both for the cattle ranges and crops.

The theater-loving populace will have no reason to complain about the dearth of amusements. This week there is the Daly comedy company; next week we are to have Mr. Fred Warde, and the following week Mons. Ovid Musin's concert company.

A number of old houses are "on wheels," en route to various less public locations. They are moving before the advancing waves of permanent improvement, giving place to more pretentious and enduring structures. Portland is marching steadily forward in the line of progress.

AN ANXIOUSLY LOOKED FOR CIRCULAR.

What a Railroad Man Has to Say About Cutting the Rates.

Railroad men are anxiously awaiting the arrival of a circular lately issued by Judge Cooley, chairman of the interstate commerce commission, which requires that all tariffs involving an advance in rates must be in the hands of the commission at Washington ten days before they go into effect, and all involving a reduction of rates must be in the hands of the commission three days before going into effect.

"It is going to be a good thing," said a railroad man yesterday. "It will work a little hardship at first in some cases, but after it gets thoroughly systematized it will work well."

The reporter suggested that "thoroughly systematized" probably meant, when freight agents have arrived at a thorough understanding of how to evade the provisions of it without being detected, at which the railroad man looked solemn and said:

"Freight men will think twice before they cut a rate now, as the penalty falls on the individual and not on the company, and the man who cuts a rate is liable to go to jail."

"It will prove beneficial in this," continued he, "that it will prevent one road from cutting into another's business with such recklessness as has heretofore prevailed, and every road will stand on its own bottom, as it were, and get its own business."

ALPINE CLUB MEETING LAST NIGHT.

Honorary Members Elected—The Deer Killing Law Discussed—Other Matters Considered.

The regular meeting of the Oregon Alpine Club was held in the rooms of the society in the Portland Savings bank building last night.

After the reading of the minutes of the last meeting the regular routine business was taken up.

Bill Nye and James Whitcomb Riley were elected honorary members of the club.

The subject of deer skinning was brought up, and all expressed themselves very much gratified that the measure, prohibiting wholesale slaughter of deer, had become a law. The concern of the club, however, did not end with the passage of the bill and the members now consider it incumbent to see that the law is rigidly enforced. W. G. Gilbert, T. B. Watson, and W. G. Steel were appointed a committee to confer with the different railroad companies and co-operate with them in enforcing the law.

The railroad companies will in a great measure be held responsible for the effectiveness of the law, as it is only through them that the spoils of extensive deer killing can be transported to market, and if they refuse to receive contraband deer skins, the violators of the law will become scarce quick enough. It is probable that this committee will issue an address to the people calling attention to the provisions of this new law, and thereby bring violators to more speedy justice.

A general talk was indulged in on the subject of the club's entertainments to be given during the summer by the Musin concert company, Mendelssohn company, Bill Nye and James Whitcomb Riley and various other companies and combinations not yet decided upon.

It was announced that Charles H. Hewitt would address the club at the next regular meeting in April.

TWO COMMITTEES APPOINTED.

Soliciting Subscriptions for the Smelting Stock—Repairing the City Dredge.

President Donald Macleay yesterday appointed as a committee to secure subscriptions to the stock of the proposed smelting works to the amount of $50,000, Messrs. Wm. M. Ladd, H. J. Corbett, C. W. Knowles, J. C. Moreland and James Steel. Mr. W. S. Ladd and Mayor DeLashmutt have each subscribed $5000 of the amount, and there will probably be no difficulty in securing the balance, as there appears to be no doubt as to the works proving a paying concern and no money will be asked until they are completed and have been run successfully for thirty days. The gentlemen who have the matter of building the works in hand, will, without doubt, satisfy the committee as to their good faith and capability to carry out their plans.

President Macleay also appointed as a committee to confer with a like committee from the council in regard to repairing the city dredge and deepening the river Messrs. C. F. Dodd, W. S. Sibson, and T. F. Osborn. As the sentiment of the council, and the Board of Trade is in favor of having the dredge put in good working order, there will probably be no obstacle in the way of having this done, unless it should be one of finances, and even that will be overcome in some way.

OPERATIONS AT THE LOCKS.

Work at the Cascades Progressing in a Very Satisfactory Manner.

Work at the Cascades locks has been progressing very favorably during the past winter, owing to the fine weather; in fact, there never has been a better season's work done there nor work done at less expense. Since June last 72,000 cubic yards of earth and rock have been excavated, all of which has been raised in removal an average height of fifty feet.

This amount of material represents an excavation 500 feet in length by 90 feet in width and 50 feet in depth. In order to complete the work, there is still to be executed 400,000 cubic yards of earth and rock, so it can easily be seen that the completion of the locks will require some time. The work of placing in position in the wing walls the huge piles of cut stone which have long been accumulating, will soon be commenced, and the results of the labor heretofore expended will begin to assume a more tangible shape.

The contractor has commenced delivering granite, and the stone cutters are at work cutting sills and beveled quoin stones.

It is most unfortunate that congress did not pass a river and harbor bill, so that work could be continued on the locks, without intermission, to their completion. As it is the present funds will be exhausted long before another appropriation can be made available.

AN ABSTRACT OF COLLECTIONS.

In the Office of the Internal Revenue Collector During the Month of February.

The following amounts have been received at the office of the United States internal revenue collector, in this city, during the month of February:

Spirits distilled from apples, peaches or grapes	$ 300 60
Spirits distilled from materials other than apples, peaches or grapes	1520 10
Retail liquor dealers	455 21
Wholesale liquor dealers	137 50
Cigars and cheroots	1902 75
Manufacturers of cigars	1 50
Tobacco, chewing and smoking	54 20
Dealers in manufactured tobacco	154 40
Fermented liquors	6567 04
Brewers, annual capacity less than 500 barrels	37 50
Retail dealers in malt liquors	15 00
Wholesale dealers in malt liquors	45 82
Sundries	12 00
Total	$11,212 63

This shows an increase of $1636 62 over the receipts of January, and an increase of $4310 76 over the receipts in the corresponding month last year.

HOW PORTLAND SELLS PROPERTY.

A Tacoma Man's Inquiry Causes Merriment in a Street Car.

"How do you sell property by the front foot in this city?" asked a stranger of a fellow passenger on a Washington street car that was speeding westward yesterday afternoon.

"Pardon me; you live in Tacoma, do you not?"

"Gracious, yes; how did you know?"

"In Portland we never sell property by the foot; we generally sell it by lots and blocks."

The car was pretty crowded at the time, and there was a general laugh at the expense of the Tacomaite.

THE STAGE.

New Park Theater.—In spite of the sudden and down pouring rain which came up last evening, just about the time for the beginning of the performance, the New Park theater held an audience which, though not as large in numbers as it should have been, made up in enthusiasm what it otherwise lacked. Daly's delightful comedy "A Night Off" went with all the smoothness and snap which could be expected from an admirably trained and thoroughly competent company. The dilemmas of the honest professor and the domineering propensities of his worthy spouse, Zantippe, kept the audience in roars, and in the third act, especially, fairly convulsed them. No such a clean comedy, full of side splitting situations, has ever before been seen in Portland.

"A Night Off" again to-night.

NEW SAVINGS BANK.

The Savings Bank of the Port and Trust Company of Oregon is conducted upon a safe and conservative basis. It is kept open during the usual banking hours of each business day, and also on Saturday nights from 6 to 8 o'clock. Clerks, mechanics, salesladies, and all others are invited to call and learn rates of interest and other particulars. Office, 60 Third street.

TRIAL OF THE GRANTS ET AL.

The Testimony Concluded—Judge Deady Will Decide the Case To-day.

She Was Under Age—Wants His Money—Criminal Cases—The Holladay Matter—Will Filed—Gamblers Arrested.

In the United States district court yesterday Mrs. Bridget Grant, John Grant, Peter Grant, Mrs. Mary McCormick and Lawrence Sullivan were arraigned on separate charges of obstructing and impeding the due administration of justice, by advising a witness not to obey a subpena. A plea of not guilty was entered by each.

Mrs. Grant is the keeper of a sailors' boarding house at Astoria, and the other defendants are connected with the establishment. Richard Jewell, a sailor on board the C. S. Hulbert, caused the arrest of Alex Davis, mate of that vessel, on her arrival here, on a charge of assault on the high seas.

Davis gave bonds for his appearance when wanted to answer to the charge, and, when the case came up, the complaining witness, Jewell, could not be found. It was ascertained that he had gone to Astoria, and a subpena was sent for him, but he was spirited away by the Grants and was at length found at a farm some distance from Astoria, arrested and brought here. He was tried for contempt, and the evidence he gave in the case led to the arrest of the whole Grant crowd, as above stated.

Jewell testified that after he had caused the arrest of Davis, the Grants came to him and said they wanted him at Astoria until they got me a place on a ship. "I said that I might be wanted in court here, but they told me that the whole affair had been settled, and as I had got my money, I supposed they told the truth. I went down to Astoria with them, and on the evening of the 5th of February I was in the sailor boarding-house there smoking a pipe and talking with the boys, when Larry Sullivan came in with a telegram from Mrs. McCormick at Portland, which read: 'Get Dick out of the way, for they are coming for him.' The Dick referred to was myself, though I didn't think it a matter to cause any deep concern just then. Sullivan then said to me: 'You had better go to your room.' I asked him why, and he said because it was about the best thing I could do. Later in the evening I went to my room and turned in. Next morning Pete Grant came up, and knocking at my door awoke me and said, 'Dick, get up.' I at once arose and dressed myself to go out. Pete then told me to go out with him. We went down and were soon joined by Jack Grant, and then all of us went to a restaurant to get something to eat. One of the boys said to the other: 'You know what to do with him, so take him along.' I was then taken by Jack down below Astoria, and out into the country to a farm, where I was told I should work till I was given a new job. I supposed it was usual to handle sailors that way, and was surprised when the officers came for me."

Alex Davis, the defendant in the assault case, was put on the witness stand and testified to the facts that he was approached by the Grants, who wanted him to put up money to get Jewell out of the way, so that the case against him could not be prosecuted, but he refused to pay them what they demanded.

Eight witnesses were examined for the prosecution, and about the same number for the defense.

The defense made was to the effect that the Grants had no intention of impeding the course of justice, but were only carrying on their "legitimate" business in the usual way. Peter Grant acknowledges that he took Jewell away, "but it was not my intention to interfere with the courts. In fact I did not know that he was wanted in the assault case or any other case. So far as the rest of the crowd were concerned, they had nothing at all to do with it. I am alone in the blame. I don't know what the judge will do with me, only I hope he will be as lenient in passing judgment as he usually is upon first offense cases."

District Attorney McArthur, who evidently does not hold the Grants guiltless of intending to interfere with the law and does not imagine that their business is conducted exactly on business principles, gave the defendants a scoring and desires that they shall be dealt with in a manner which will teach them not to interfere with the administration of justice in the future.

Messrs. Raleigh Stott and C. W. Fulton made a long argument for the defense and endeavored to show that they had only been carrying on their business in the usual way.

Judge Deady will render a decision in the case to-day. If the accused are found guilty their punishment can be a fine of not less than $50, nor more than $500, or imprisonment not to exceed ninety days, or both.

CASES IN THE CRIMINAL COURT.

Charles F. Perkins, who feloniously assaulted little Gertie Kepper, moved to set aside the indictment against him in the criminal court yesterday morning. His application will be heard this morning.

George Foster pleaded not guilty to the indictment charging him with seducing Jennie Hellquist, and will be tried March 18.

August Strom, who attempted to disembowel A. Schwartz with a knife about two months ago, was tried and convicted in the criminal court yesterday. He attacked Schwartz because he refused to loan him half a dollar.

MINOR COURT NOTES.

S. P. Henson is suing Christina M. Hensen for a divorce in the state circuit court. Desertion is charged.

Marriage licenses were granted yesterday for C. Davis and M. E. Oliver; J. P. Hale and Fannie Terrell.

C. A. Reed, George N. Fawcett, H. Borles and Alfred Powell, of the regular jury panel of the state circuit court, have been sworn in to fill vacancies caused by other jurors being excused.

John Wanliss, a native of Great Britain, has filed with Circuit Court Clerk Duff his declaration of intention of becoming a citizen.

THREE GAMBLERS ARRESTED.

A. P. Nelson, John Storm and G. Backstrom were arrested by Constable Sam Simmons yesterday on complaint of Robert P. Biggs, who charges the trio with conducting a stud-poker game in the Telephone saloon. The charge against the three men is "apparently" prompted by malice. The complainant claims that he had a room over the Telephone saloon, and that on his running behind in the payment of room rent, his trunk was taken by one of the defendants, who refuses to give it up until the balance of the room rent is paid. The case will be looked into by Justice Tuttle at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

SEVERAL SMALL CASES.

Frank Turk, son of the Sailor boarding house keeper, was fined $10 by Justice Tuttle Monday for assault and battery on W. S. St. Clair. The tables were turned yesterday and St. Clair appeared as defendant and Turk as injured innocence. After hearing Turk's side of the story, Justice Tuttle threw the case out of court.

In the same court John Lillianburg was found not guilty of larceny. The defendant, who is a bartender, was accused of stealing a $5 gold piece from one O. Elberon.

S. Abrahams will be tried before Justice Tuttle this afternoon on a charge of assault and battery on Hannah Rifky.

POLICE COURT.

Ah Wing, charged with using abusive language to Officer Woods, failed to respond to the call of his name and his bail of $10 was ordered forfeited; Nick Murphy, drunk, fined $10; O. C. Riley was arraigned on a charge of assault and battery on John Ronetch, one of the proprietors of the Plaza saloon on Third and Salmon streets. Ronetch states that Riley came into his saloon Monday night and ordered four glasses of beer for which he refused to pay. Upon being told to take peremptory leave, he struck him (Ronetch) several severe blows on the head and face.

Riley was not ready for trial and the court continued the examination until this afternoon.

DR. WHEELER WANTS HIS PAY.

The suit of Dr. C. H. Wheeler vs. the Portland & Willamette Valley Railway Company for $569, for medical attendance, was tried before Judge Shattuck yesterday and submitted to the jury, which was instructed to return a sealed verdict. Dr. Wheeler's claim is for attending the passengers who were injured in the accident on the road March 4, 1888.

TESSIE WAS UNDER AGE.

Judge Stearns yesterday annulled the marriage contract existing between Tessie Morris and Thomas Loftus, because they were married before Mrs. Loftus was of legal, marriageable age. Tessie and her father testified to the existence of these circumstance, and Mr. Morris added that he did not give his consent to the union.

AFTER JOE HOLLADAY AGAIN.

The application of Mrs. Ben Holladay for the removal of her brother-in-law, Joseph, from the executorship of her husband's estate, because of mismanagement, incompetency and hostility to the heirs, was partially heard by County Judge Catlin yesterday, and the hearing will be resumed to-morrow.

DR. ATKINSON'S WILL.

The late Rev. George H. Atkinson left an estate valued at $15,000. His will was filed for probate yesterday. By its terms he bequeathed his property to his wife and children.

TWO COUPLE MADE HAPPY.

Peter Horats and Susan A. Kelly, of this city, and J. P. Hale, of Chico, Cal., and Fannie Ferrill, of this city, were united in marriage by Justice Tuttle yesterday.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

ABSOLUTELY PURE.

For quick raising, the Royal Baking Powder is superior to all other leavening agents. It is absolutely pure and wholesome and of the highest leavening power. It is always uniform in strength and quality and never fails to make light, sweet, most palatable and nutritive food. Bread, biscuits, muffins, cake, etc., raised with Royal Baking Powder may be eaten hot without distressing results to the most delicate digestive organs. It will keep in any climate without deterioration.

Prof. H. A. Mott, U. S. Government Chemist, after examining officially the principal baking powders of the country, reported:

"The Royal Baking Powder is absolutely pure, for I have so found it in many tests made both for that company and the United States Government.

"Because of the facilities that company have for obtaining perfectly pure cream of tartar, and for other reasons dependent upon the proper proportions of the same, and the method of its preparation, the Royal Baking Powder is undoubtedly the purest and most reliable baking powder offered to the public.

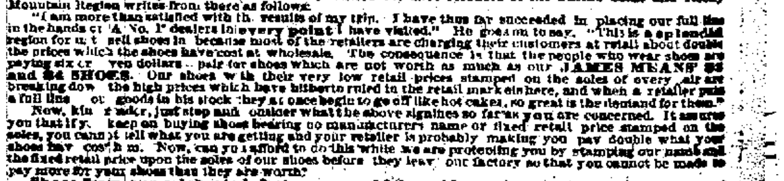
THE MARCH OF PROGRESS!
OUR LATEST IMPROVEMENTS!
"Competition is the Life of Trade," and if you have not seen our latest improved goods you cannot imagine how lively trade is, or how hard our competitors have to work to keep within sight of us. Ask your retailers for the James Means $3 Shoe, or the James Means $4 Shoe, according to your needs.
Positively none genuine unless having our name and price stamped plainly on the soles. Your retailer will supply you with shoes so stamped, if you insist upon his doing so; if you do not insist, some retailers will coax you into buying inferior shoes upon which they make a larger profit.



JAMES MEANS' $3 SHOE
UNEXCELLED IN STYLE, UNEQUALLED IN DURABILITY AND PERFECTION OF FIT.
JAMES MEANS' SEAMLESS $3 SHOE
JAMES MEANS' $4 SHOE
CANNOT FAIL TO SATISFY THE MOST FASTIDIOUS
JAMES MEANS' $4 SHOE

Such has been the recent progress in our branch of industry that we are now able to affirm that the James Means $4 Shoe is in every respect equal to the shoes which only a few years ago were retailed at eight or ten dollars. If you will try on a pair you will be convinced that we do not exaggerate. Ours are the original $3 and $4 shoes, and those who imitate our system of business are unable to compete with us in quality of factory products. In our lines we are the largest manufacturers in the United States.
One of our traveling salesmen who recently visited the shoe retailers of the Pacific Coast and Rocky Mountain Region writes from there as follows:
"I am more than satisfied with the results of my trip. I have thus far succeeded in placing our full line in the hands of 'A No. 1' dealers in every point I have visited." He goes on to say, "This is a splendid region for us to sell shoes in because most of the retailers are charging their customers at retail about double the prices which the shoes have cost at wholesale. The consequence is that the people who wear shoes are paying six or seven dollars a pair for shoes which are not worth as much as our JAMES MEANS' $3 and $4 SHOES. Our shoes with their very low retail prices stamped on the soles of every pair are breaking down the high prices which have hitherto ruled in the retail markets here, and when a retailer puts a full line of our goods in his stock they at once begin to go off like hot cakes, so great is the demand for them."
Now, kind reader, just stop and consider what the above signifies so far as you are concerned. It assures you that if you keep on buying shoes bearing no manufacturer's name or fixed retail price stamped on the soles, you cannot tell what you are getting and your retailer is probably making you pay double what your shoes have cost him. Now, can you afford to do this while we are protecting you by stamping our name and the fixed retail price upon the soles of our shoes before they leave our factory so that you cannot be made to pay more for your shoes than they are worth?
Shoes from our celebrated factory are sold by wide-awake retailers in all parts of the country. We will place them easily within your reach in any State or Territory if you will invest one cent in a postal card and write to us.
